

CONTENTS

Introduction	1-14
Globalisation as an Economic Phenomenon and Implication for the State	15-44
(a) The Dynamics of Globalisation and Localisation
(b) Globalisation and the State
(c) Advent of Competition State
(d) Globalisation and the experience of Chinese and Indian State
FDI, Transnationalism and Diaspora Networks	44-69
(a) Theories of FDI
(b) Capital Movements in the 20 th Century
(c) Global Trends in FDI
(d) Transaction Cost Framework and Business Networks
(e) Embeddedness and Social Organization of Networks
(f) Transnationalism, Diaspora and Networks
Chinese State and the Diaspora	70-117
(a) The Qing period
(b) Policies of Republican Government
(c) Overseas Chinese Remittance and their Impact
(d) The CPC and the Establishment of the PRC
(e) Policies towards the Domestic Overseas Chinese
(f) Decentralisation and Local Economic Autonomy
(g) Diaspora Investments
(h) Characteristics of Diaspora Business
(i) Guanxi and Network Building

(j) External Factors

The Indian State and the Diaspora

118-154

(a) The Spread of Indian Diaspora

(b) Economic Intermediary role of Diaspora

(c) Group Identity and Networks

(d) State Policy in Historical Context

(1) Indian National Congress and Diaspora

(2) Independence and After

(3) Changes in Policies since the mid 1970s

(e) The Question of Dual Nationality and Diaspora

(f) State Organisational Structure and Diaspora Relations

(g) Diaspora and Economic Development

(1) Remittances

(2) Bank Deposits

(3) Security and Portfolio Investment

(4) Trade and Tourism

(5) FDI and Science and Technology

Case Study One: The Mainland and Diasporic/Singaporean Investment

155-174

(a) Economic and Social linkages with China

(b) Singapore Investment in China

(c) Political Entrepreneurship and Investment in China

(d) Central- Local Politics in China

(e) The Singapore Chinese and Emigrant Village: The Case of Anxi County

(f) Guanxi in China - Networks and Personal Entrepreneurship

(f) Quanxi and Personal Entrepreneurship

Case Study Two: Indians in Silicon Valley and the Evolving /Emerging linkages with the Indian State

175-2001

(a) Indian Immigration and Restructuring

(b) 1990 Immigration Act

(c) Silicon Valley , Information Technology and Indians

(d) Networking as a factor of Growth

(e) Information Technology in India

(1) Phase I

(2) Phase II

(3) Phase III

(f) Diaspora and Computer Industry in India

Conclusion

202-207

Bibliography

208-225

Appendix

226-236