“Every story starts with an idea, but it is the characters that move that idea forward.”

— Michael Scott

Most of us come up with various ideas but not all are able to execute it successfully. Execution requires a lot of planning, perseverance and persistence. Most importantly it requires co-operation of lot of people to make one’s journey memorable and successful. At this moment of successful completion of my research work, I would like to acknowledge everyone involved in making this possible.

First and foremost, I would like to thank Allah, the Almighty, for providing me strength, knowledge, patience, skill and opportunity to undertake this research.

I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to my guide and supervisor Dr. Manish Nivsarkar, Director, B. V. Patel PERD Centre for his unconditional support and guidance during my entire research work. His knowledge and expertise in the field helped me in solving many problems encountered during the entire research work. I will always be grateful to him for giving me an opportunity to pursue my PhD under his guidance.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to RPC members, Prof. Gaurang Shah and Prof. Anita Mehta for their helpful suggestions and words of encouragement during my progress report presentations.

Next, I would not miss to acknowledge DST Inspire for providing financial support and Nirma University for PhD registration.

I owe a deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Kamala Vasu and Dr. Neeta Shrivastava, for their support and loving gestures throughout the tenure of my research work.

I owe my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Milee Agarwal, Dr. Preeti Desai and Dr. Amita Joshi for their guidance and help in the experimental work undertaken.

I am grateful to my seniors Dr. Ranjeet Prasad Dash and Dr. Mehul Jivrajani who were always there to solve my problems through fruitful discussions and valuable suggestions during the tenure of my project.

I am really fortunate to have an opportunity to work and learn in the scientific environment of Pharmacology and Toxicology Lab. I wish to acknowledge the support and help received from my lab mates namely Rita Madam, Ruma Madam, Rakesh Sir, Nirav Sir, Sandeep Sir, Dilawar, Devendra and Swapnil. I am also very grateful to Mangalbhai, Pravinbhai, and Shamjibhai.

I am extremely thankful to Manika who has been with me more as a friend than a colleague during the research work.

I wish to acknowledge Dr. Niraj and Dr. Abhirami Sundari, for their solicitous help and support during my research work.

I want to convey my special thanks to Dharmesh, Brijesh, Sneha, Dr. Dhaivat and Dr. Jayesh for their direct or indirect help as and when required.

I would also like to say thanks to the administrative and supporting staff of B. V. Patel PERD Centre, Ahmedabad for providing all possible help and support.

I am very much thankful to my beloved wife, Huma and my little angel, Ali for always being by my side in this endeavor. I also wish to express my gratitude towards my parents and my in-laws for their blessings, love and support.

Lastly, I would like to thank all those who have been directly or indirectly helping me for successful completion of my work.
