ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I acknowledge with profound reverence and gratitude the invaluable guidance, precious suggestions and continuous encouragement I have received from my supervisor, Prof Dr S M Ali, Deptt of Economics, Kendrapara College, Kendrapara towards accomplishment of this arduous exercise. He has all along shown a very cordial, co-operative and friendly gesture and keen interest in making thorough supervision of my dissertation during the long tenure of its preparation. Dr Ali’s skill and knowledge in “Fishery Economics” and the lucidity of his interaction roused a strong passion in me for launching a determined and sustained effort towards bringing out this project with success. Truly speaking I hold Dr Ali with high esteem as my friend, philosopher and guide.

I do also express my indebtedness to my co-supervisor, Dr Basudev Sahoo, Retd Professor of Economics for his scholarly advices, and guidance which further strengthened my confidence and involvement towards this work.

I am also grateful to the eminent intellectuals like Dr G N Mitra, Ex-Director of Fisheries of Govt of Orissa and Ex Joint Commissioner of Fisheries of Govt of India, Mr K C Badu (I A S), Ex-Director of Fisheries of Govt of Orissa, Sk Md J Ahmed, Dy Director, S P U, Bhubaneswar, Dr P C Thomas, Director, College of Fisheries, Rangalunda, Ganjam, Dr R S Shrivastave, Agril Economist, CIFA, Kausalyagang, Bhubaneswar and Dr D Nayak, Director of Planning, OUAT, Bhubaneswar for their valuable discussions and suggestions which have been immensely useful in the preparation of this formidable work.

I intend to express my deep sense of gratitude to my friends and colleagues: Sri R K Mishra, Reader in Economics, N C College, Jajpur, Dr B Mishra, Reader in Economics, Bhadrak College, Bhadrak, Mr M D Jena, Deptt of Commerce, F M College, Balasore, Dr N P Dash, Deptt of Botany, N C College, Jajpur, Dr S K, Patra, Sr Lect in Economics, N C College, Jajpur and Dr S K Das, Lecturer, College of Fisheries, Rangalunda for their encouragement and co-operation extended towards this project.
I sincerely feel to express my gratitude to my revered teachers, Sj Kulamami Sahoo, Sj Mayadhar Khatua and Sj Khetrabasi Bhuyan and also my brothers Prof Bhanjakishore Das and Sri Subash Ch Das for their inspiration and encouragement in this effort.

Along with the above distinguished personalities I wish to express my thanks to the officials of various reputed libraries I have visited in course of preparation of this thesis. Libraries like Indira Gandhi Library, University of Hyderabad, State Bank of India Library, Hyderabad, Library of Central Institute of Freshwater Aquaculture (CIFA), Kausalyagang, Bhubaneswar, Library of College of Fisheries, Rangaulunda, Berhampur, Library of Directorate of Fisheries, Orissa, Library of OUAT, Bhubaneswar, Library of Utkal University, Vani Vihar, Library of Planning and Co-ordination Department, Govt of Orissa and Library of N C College, Jajpur need special mention.

I am also thankful to Mrs Bidisha Palita of S B Computers, Samanta Vihar, Bhubaneswar and Prof Dr S K Palita, Deptt of Zoology, Kendrapara College, Kendrapara for carrying out the computerisation of the thesis neatly and also within the stipulated time.

Last but not the least, I acknowledge with profound affection and pleasure the kind of unstinting support and inspiration I have received from my wife Jyotsna, daughter Leena and son Kitu but for whose co-operation and sacrifice of comfort during my long absence, the successful completion of this onerous task could have been a remote possibility.

Date 20. 8. 2000

(L.K. Choudhury)