

Kamada, T. and Tokuda, S. (2005). “Higher levels of erythrocyte membrane fluidity in sprinters and long-distance runners”, Department of Laboratory Medicine, Faculty of Medicine, Kagoshima University, Japan

Meckel, Y. et al. (1995), “Physiological characteristics of female 100 meter sprinters of different performance levels”, Department of Life Science and Sports Medicine, Wingate Institute, Israel.

Online library sources on Google.in