ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Perhaps nothing is more gratifying than acknowledging the help I received during the course of this PhD work. I wish to thank all of them for their efforts in making this a reality.

It is my foremost pleasure to thank my supervisor, Dr. G. Jayaraman, Reader and Co-ordinator, Molecular Biology Programme, Department of Genetics, Institute of Basic Medical Sciences, University of Madras, Taramani Campus, Chennai 600113, Tamilnadu for providing a wonderful research environment. The experiences, which I gained from our lab have helped me in getting a strong scientific foundation and will form the stepping-stones for a bright successful future. Thanks for teaching me to be strong, compassionate, patient and independent. Sir, you have instilled me the need to maintain passion for research and teaching. The emotions and gratitude’s are infinite and you will be always remembered for your unique skills, superb organization and the dedication to work.

I wish to express my gratitude to the Director, Dr. N. Srinivasan, Professor, Department of Endocrinology, Institute of Basic Medical Sciences, University of Madras, Taramani Campus, Chennai 600113, Tamilnadu for permitting me to use common facilities of the Institute.

It is my sincere duty to express the heartfelt gratitude to Dr. A. Ramesh, Professor and Head, Department of Genetics, Institute of Basic Medical Sciences, University of Madras, Taramani Campus, Chennai 600113, Tamilnadu for providing me all the facilities conducive for a good scientific research. Dr. P.M. Gopinath, Head (Retd.), Dr. R. Mayasundari, Head (Retd.), Department of Genetics, Institute of Basic Medical Sciences, University of Madras, Taramani Campus, Chennai 600113, Tamilnadu, will always remain a great source of inspiration. The support of the other faculty members - Dr. (Mrs) S.T. Santhiya, Dr. (Mrs) R. Malathi, Dr. (Mrs) N. Chandra and Dr. A.K. Munirajan, Department of Genetics, Institute of Basic Medical Sciences, University of Madras, Taramani Campus, Chennai 600113, Tamilnadu is greatly appreciated.

The opportunity was given by the timely help and support of Dr. G.K. Thangappan, Principle Investigator, Central Institute of Fisheries Technology, Cochin and Dr. N. Kalaimani, Principle Investigator, Central Institute of Brackish water and Aquaculture, Chennai. I also express my deep sense of gratitude towards Dr. C. Paneerselvam, Professor, Department of Medical Biochemistry, Institute of Basic Medical Sciences, University of Madras, Taramani Campus, Chennai 600113, Tamilnadu. I am fortunate to have Dr. A. Arumugam, Professor and Head, Department of Zoology, University of Madras for my PhD doctoral committee.

It is my immense pleasure to acknowledge the help given by Dr. V. Vasudevan, Deputy Director, Tuberculosis, Tamilnadu for assisting me in sample collection. I am fortunate to get the acquaintance of Dr. S. Rajasekaran, MD, D.T.C.D, Deputy Director, Government Hospital of Thoracic Medicine, Tambaram Sanatorium, Chennai. I am deeply indebted to him for providing all the facilities to collect COPD patients blood samples. His supports and suggestions had a positive influence in this study. The visit to the TB sanatorium, Chennai was made fruitful only because of the help I received from Dr. Raja, other physicians and nurses of the TB sanatorium, Chennai.

Deep gratitude’s to the Patients and Normal individuals for their wholehearted participation in this study. Their willingness and the eagerness to know about the project, to understand about the genetic nature of the diseases and to share their sorrows and happiness will always remain in my heart. The cooperation from their families were also remarkable.

I owe a lot to my colleagues who in one way or another have been instrumental for this thesis. Dr. Rajiv Rose, Dr. M. Karthikeyan and Mr. G. Kathirvel for teaching me the technical aspects of doing research, Dr. K.M. Chandrasekar, VA Medical Center, Loma Linda, USA for his generosity to provide the primers for the present work, Mr. A. Pachiappan, Mr. B. Anandan, Mr. Velmurugan, Ms. S. Geetha and Mrs. V. Shridevi for their the timely help and moral support.

The debt to Dr. S. Noornisha for thoroughly and graciously revising the chapters is enormous and the gratitude felt is equally large. Her insightful comments were absolutely invaluable and made the thesis stronger than originally conceived. Sincere thanks to several of my friends whose help I benefited considerably. Dr. R. Jayalakshmi, Dr. (Mrs.) V.V. Sangeetha Naveen, Dr. (Mrs.) Kalaivani Raja, Dr. (Mrs.) M. Sarumati, Ms. S. Malarvizhi, Dr. G. Rohini, Mr. Iswar, for assisting in creating the good quality images and Ms. T. Vijayalakshmi (Late) for her kind help.

I also express my deep sense of gratitude to the non-teaching staffs of the Department of Genetics, Mr. Solomon, Dr. (Mrs.) Kalavathi, Mrs. Pusphavathi, Mr. Raju, Mr. Das, Mr. Paneerselvam, Mr. Thirunavukarasu, Mr. Madurai and staffs of the central office, Institute of Basic Medical Sciences, University of Madras, Taramani Campus, Chennai 600113, Tamilnadu.

It is my immense pleasure to acknowledge the timely help rendered by Dr. Alamelu, Principal, Dr. (Mrs.) Mary Jee Jee Cruz, Head, Department of Biotechnology, and Dr. A. Manimaran, Assistant Professor, Department of Biotechnology, Sri Lakshmipathy, former Principal, Mr. Ramasubramaniam, Lecturer, Department of Computer Science and Engineering, Aarupadai Veedu Institute of Technology, Vinayaka Mission's Research Foundation University, Tamilnadu.

I thank my family for their continuous love and support. I wouldn’t have come this far without them. The monetary aid given by the University Grants Commission in the form of Junior Research Fellowship (JRF) is greatly acknowledged. My thanks to the Adyar Students Xerox and Friends Xerox for their neat printing and binding. It is surely the blessings and showering of the GOD ALMIGHTY that led me to the ultimate goal.
