Acknowledgements

As I sit to pen down my feelings on the completion of my Ph.D work, I thank Almighty for giving me an opportunity to acknowledge and appreciate my supervisors, family and friends who supported and helped me throughout this journey.

First and foremost I offer my sincerest gratitude to my worthy supervisor Prof. S. V. Kessar (Emeritus, F.N.A) for his guidance, support and introducing me to the fascinating world of Cross Dehydrogenative Coupling reactions. I thank you Sir for your invaluable advices at various stages of this work and preparation of the thesis.

I express my extreme sense of indebtedness to Prof. K. N. Singh, my honourable co-supervisor, for his expert technical advices, offering comprehensive knowledge, patience and providing me with a proper atmosphere for doing research. It has been a matter of pride and profound pleasure to work under his kind and able guidance. Sir, you have always been a source of inspiration for me to do hard work.

It is my profound privilege to offer my sincere thanks to Prof. Paramjit Singh for being a guiding beacon during this journey. I truly appreciate his steadfast integrity and selfless dedication. I am grateful to him for his unconditional support and for consistently helping me to improve my writing skills. Sir, I thank you for always being a pillar of strength.

I thank Dr. Amarjit Kaur for her support and constant encouragement.

I am thankful to Prof. S. K. Mehta (Ex-Chairman, Department of Chemistry) and Prof. P. Venugopalan (Chairman, Department of Chemistry) for providing the required facilities for the work.

Immeasurable appreciation and deepest gratitude goes to my family. I dedicate this thesis to Bade papa (S. Ram Singh Batra), Papa (Gulshan K. Batra), Mamma (Babli Batra), Bhaiya (Anjum Batra) and Bhabi (Niharika Batra) for their endless love, care and support. I thank mamma papa for always giving me strength and encouraging me to work harder and do my best and bhaiya bhabi, who always inspires me and never fails to make me smile. Thank you for the unwavering faith you have in me. I owe my Ph.D to you.

I am indebted to my friends cum labmates (Pushpinder Sir, Yogita Mam, Yadwinder Sir, Sandeep Sir, Poonam Mam, Manjot and Esha) for providing a stimulating, fun-filled and pleasant environment.
Words fail me to express my appreciation to Pushpinder Sir for being generous enough to stand beside me during the happy and hard moments to push me, motivate me and for constantly boosting my morale. I thank Yogita Mam for all the love, care and many precious memories along the way. You both have inspired and helped me to remain focussed.

I will always cherish the time spent with Yadwinder Sir and Sandeep Sir during writing of my thesis. I will never forget the inspirational and funny conversations we had. Of course, the philosophical advices from Sandeep Sir are admired a lot.

I thank Poonam Mam, Manjot and Esha for creating a lively atmosphere in the lab.

It’s my fortune to gratefully acknowledge Japinder, Meenu, Poonam and Ramanpreet for always being there when I needed the most: Japinder for being a part of my happy and sad moments and bearing my mood swings like my younger sister. Thank you for making our small hostel room, a home away from home. I will always remember the precious time we have spent together and of course our fights (!); Meenu, for being cute and innocent part of our group. We have laughed and cried together. I thank you both for always lending me an ear to all my problems (Pakke sukh dukh ke saathi). I thank Poonam for all the support and of course the tasty home-made lunch and Ramanpreet for the affection and care.

I also thank research scholars: Anil Sir, Amritpal Sir, Gargi Mam, Priya Mam, Rimi, Preeti, Santosh mam, Ankita, Manisha, Rohini and Rajni for being a part of this long journey.

My list of acknowledgements would be incomplete without mentioning the names of Shivani, Sunayana and Avantika. Thank you girls for giving me so much love and respect. I thank Khushboo Mam for always reenergizing me with her smiling face.

I mention a special thanks to Avtar Sir and Manish Sir (SAIF) for doing NMR and Anoop Sir for mass analysis. I also appreciate the help provided by non-teaching and technical staff which includes Umang Sir, Ashwani Sir, Sandeep Sir (NMR), Sandeep Sir (IR), Kulwinder Sir, Diwan Sir, Sukhvinder Sir and Maurya Sir.

Once again I thank Pushpinder Sir, Yogita Mam, Japinder, Meenu, Poonam and Raman for each and everything. You all are more like a family to me.

Much needed financial support from UGC, New Delhi is gratefully acknowledged.
