ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I, Vivek Marathe, undersigned express my sincere, gratitude to all the people who have directly/indirectly helped me in completing the PhD research. I also thank all my fellow colleagues who were also part of many discussions and brain storming sessions which helped in doing the research activities more effectively.

First of all I am thankful to my Guide Dr. A.P Ghosh who has been a support during the journey of this research. He has been sharing his vast experience and knowledge in the field of Banking and Finance so as to guide me in the process of my PhD Research. He has been supervising my PhD research work from the initial stage and giving me valuable suggestions from time to time.

It is very important for me to express my gratitude to Dr.Anil Keskar who has been a mentor in my life. During my PhD, he has given me many valuable inputs which were very helpful in complying the technicalities of PhD. He has been sharing his experience in various domains which helped me to complete my research. His support and motivation was of key importance during my PhD.

I am also thankful to our Research Director Dr. Kunal Bhattacharya who has been continuously available for helping me in the process of my PhD. The presentation sessions arranged on every Saturday gave a direction to our work. The presentations made by us were important to understand our mistakes and rectify them at the right time.

I also thank Mr.Ajit Sane who was always there with me. He has been helping and supporting me in various ways during the PhD.

I can’t complete without mentioning the support and blessings given by my parents, in-laws and other family members. My wife Advocate Deepti Marathe and daughters Swarali and Durga have given me immense support during my PhD.
