ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The researcher received help, support and encouragement from many people in the course of carrying out the present research whom he tenders his sincere thanks. At the very outset, the researcher expresses his profound and unreserved gratitude to Dr. Muktipada Sinha, Assistant Professor, Department of Education, Jadavpur University for giving his kind consent to be his supervisor. His constant inspiring guidance, supervision, continued support and constructive suggestions right from the beginning of the work enabled the researcher to undertake this research. He never hesitated to spare his valuable time for the qualitative enrichment of the research. He made the researcher feel comfortable and easy to conduct the research work smoothly inspite of different problems during the research. The present research project would have remained an unfulfilled dream of the researcher without his constant support and valuable guidance. With a few limited words it is impossible to express gratitude for him. However, the researcher is very much thankful and expresses his heart felt gratitude to his esteemed supervisor.

The researcher expresses his deep sense of gratitude to Prof. Sanat Kumar Ghosh of Kalyani University, who inspite of his very busy schedule never hesitated to give valuable suggestions, guidance and encouragement time to time to have a deep insight into the present research work.

The researcher gratefully acknowledges the support, help and encouragement given by Shri Lalit Lalitav Mohakud, Assistant Professor, Department of Education, Jadavpur University who helped the researcher without reservation in statistical analysis of the study.
During the process of registration and research work, the researcher received wholehearted cooperation and encouragement from the Head, faculty members and staff members of the Department of Education, Jadavpur University without which it was not possible to carry out the research. The researcher expresses gratitude for their support. The researcher is thankful to the Principal Secretary, the Dean of Faculty of Arts, Jadavpur University, the staff members of the Ph.D. Cell and the University in general for providing me the opportunity to do Ph.D. research smoothly.

Techno India Group, being one of the largest knowledge management groups of the country, always encourages its employees for their qualitative professional development. The researcher is indebted to Mrs. Manoshi Roy Chowdhury, the Co-Chairman of the group and Chairman of Techno India Group Public School, Garia for allowing me to carry out the research and for her constant support and encouragement. The researcher is thankful to Mr. Hillol Majumder, Manager, HR, Techno India Group for according permission and for his constant support.

The colleagues of the researcher working in Techno India Group Public School in general extended their help and support in various ways to carry out the research, particularly Amita, Sujata, Arya, Nirajita, Tanuka, Rupa Bhattacharya, Dr. Subrata Roy and Prabhat. The researcher sincerely acknowledges their support and cooperation. The researcher is thankful to Ms. Papri Bose, the counsellor of the school, who helped in data collection and shared her ideas in the subject. The researcher also acknowledges the support extended by Ms. Rachita Dhara, the counsellor of TIGPS, Konnagar in gathering data.

The researcher had to visit schools to gather data from the students. The Principals and teachers of the schools allowed and accommodated the researcher in the class rooms to gather data from the students smoothly. He is indebted for their wholehearted cooperation. The students, the sample of the study, remained very cooperative in responding to the questionnaires freely, without which the research would have been a futile effort. The researcher is thankful to them.
The students and scholars of the Department of Education, JU cooperated the researcher wholeheartedly in carrying out the research at different phases, particularly Abhijit Banerjee, Bijoy Krishna Panda and Liton Mallick. The researcher is thankful to them.

The researcher is thankful to his family for their support, particularly his both children Malobi and Nitin, who constantly encouraged and helped a lot in preparing the report. The researcher extends his immense gratitude to Dr. Tapasi Ghosh, who constantly inspired, encouraged and helped in data collection and extended best possible support in completing the research.

There were many people who helped the researcher directly and indirectly in many ways in accomplishing the journey of this project. The researcher is grateful to all of them.
