Contents

Preface i-ii
Acknowledgement iii-iv
Contents v-vi
List of Tables vii
List of Figures viii
List of Photo Plates ix

CHAPTER 1  INTRODUCTION 1-46

1.1. Statement of the Problem
1.1.1. Environmental Concerns in India
1.2. Review of the Literature
1.2.1. Environmental Protection within the Constitutional Framework of India
1.2.2. NGOs as the Guardians of Environment
1.3. Aims & Objectives

CHAPTER 2  STUDY AREA 47-74

2.1. Description of the Universe and Justification
2.1.1. The Hill State of Uttarakhand
2.1.2. Almora – a Typical Hill District of Uttarakhand
2.1.3. Geographical Peculiarities and Related Environmental Issues in the State and the Present Study Area
2.2. Research Methodology - Criteria for Selecting NGOs, and Research Design
2.2.1. Design of the Study and Tools and Techniques of Data Collection
2.2.2. Data Collection Methodologies Used in the Present Research

CHAPTER 3  THE NGOs AS 'THE THIRD SECTOR' 75-114

3.1. The Spirit of Voluntarism and Rise of the NGO Sector
3.2. Voluntary Organisation Defined
3.2.1. Typology
3.2.2. Features of Voluntary Organisation
3.2.3. Functions
3.3. The Growth of NGO as Third Sector Organizations
3.4. Environmental Non-governmental Organization (ENGO)
3.5. The Role of Environmental NGOs: Functioning and Strategies
3.5.1. Coercing Strategies of NGOs
3.5.2. Efficacy of NGOs in promoting Environment Friendly Development
3.6. Origin and Growth Of Voluntary Sector In India
3.6.1. Voluntary Activities in Ancient and Medieval India
3.6.2. The 19th and 20th Centuries
3.6.3. After Independence – The Welfare State
3.6.4. Five Year Plans and Government-NGO Collaboration
3.6.5. Role of NGO’S in Protection for the Environment in India
3.7. Conclusion
CHAPTER 4 NGOs AND ENVIRONMENT CONSERVATION 115-162

4.1. Profile of the NGOs Selected for the Present Study
4.2. Tabulation of the Findings Based on the Assessment of the NGOs Selected for the Present Study

CHAPTER 5 COMMUNITY PERCEPTION ON THE EFFECTIVENESS OF NGOS IN ENVIRONMENTAL CONSERVATION 163-200

5.1. Tabulation of the Findings Based on Responses of the Community on Effectiveness of the NGOs

CHAPTER 6 SUMMARY, CONCLUSION & RECOMMENDATIONS 201-220

6.1. Summary
6.2. Conclusion
6.3. Recommendations
   6.3.1. Forest Restoration and Ecosystem Services
   6.3.2. Conserving Bio-diversity in Agricultural Landscapes and Ensuring Remunerative Livelihoods Development
   6.3.3. Disaster Preparedness and Sustainable and Safer Infrastructure Development
   6.3.4. Sustainable Education
   6.3.5. Enhancing NGO Management

BIBLIOGRAPHY 221-230

Annexure I x-xiii
Annexure II xiv-xvii
Annexure III xviii-xxi
List of Tables

Table 2.1: A brief profile of Uttarakhand

Table 4.1: The Profile of Selected NGOs
Table 4.2: Number of Environmental Projects currently run by the NGO
Table 4.3: Environmental Development Projects of the NGOs
Table 4.4: Agency monitoring the projects implemented by the NGO
Table 4.5: Frequency of the monitoring done by the Agency
Table 4.6: Agency conducting follow-up monitoring post-project completion
Table 4.7: Community Participation in Project Development and Implementation
Table 4.8: Status of the projects currently run by the NGOs
Table 4.9: Effectiveness of the NGO in voicing people’s concerns
Table 4.10: Better funding agency- National/ International/ Both
Table 4.11: Better funding agency- Govt./ NGO/ Other/ Collaboration

Table 5.1: Age group of the respondent
Table 5.2: Gender of the respondent
Table 5.3: Educational Qualification of the respondent
Table 5.4: Profession of the Respondent
Table 5.5: Number of NGOS working(ed) in the area
Table 5.6: Performance of the Project
Table 5.7: Community attendance in workshops organized by the NGO
Table 5.8: Improvement in the quality of the environment by the NGO’s environment based project
Table 5.9: Improvements in agriculture and allied activities
Table 5.10: Forest conservation and natural resource management
Table 5.11: Workshops on dissemination of knowledge of natural resource management, disaster management etc.
Table 5.12: Community capacity building and self-sustenance through self-help groups etc
Table 5.13: Dissemination of information on environmental conservation among village community
Table 5.14: Effectiveness of the NGO in voicing people concerns to the government
Table 5.15: Project site visited by the NGO post-project completion
Table 5.16: Outcomes of the project implemented by the NGO
Table 5.17: Government sponsored scheme run in the area
Table 5.18: Agency running the government sponsored scheme
Table 5.19: Performance of the government sponsored scheme
Table 5.20: Functioning of the NGO vis-à-vis Government
Table 5.21: Improvements in agriculture and allied activities
Table 5.22: Tackling issue of soil erosion
Table 5.23: Contribution in soil-water conservation
Table 5.24: Forest conservation and tree plantation
Table 5.25: Management of public utilities
Table 5.26: Self-Help Groups
Table 5.27: Disseminating information on environmental conservation
List of Figures

Figure 2.1: Geological Divisions of Uttarakhand
Figure 2.2: Location Map of the Study Area.

Figure 4.1: Number of Environmental Projects currently run by the NGO
Figure 4.2: Agency monitoring the projects implemented by the NGO
Figure 4.3: Environmental Development Projects of the NGOs
Figure 4.4: Frequency of the monitoring done by the Agency
Figure 4.5: Agency conducting follow-up monitoring post-project completion
Figure 4.6: Community Participation in Project Development and Implementation
Figure 4.7: Status of the projects currently run by the NGOs
Figure 4.8: Better funding agency- National/ International/ Both
Figure 4.9: Better funding agency- Govt./ NGO/ Other/ Collaboration

Figure 5.1: Age group of the respondent
Figure 5.2: Gender of the respondent
Figure 5.3: Educational Qualification of the respondent
Figure 5.4: Profession of the Respondent
Figure 5.5: Number of NGOS working(ed) in the area
Figure 5.6: Performance of the Project
Figure 5.7: Community attendance in workshops organized by the NGO
Figure 5.8: Improvement in the quality of the environment by the NGO’s environment based project
Figure 5.9: Improvements in agriculture and allied activities
Figure 5.10: Forest conservation and natural resource management
Figure 5.11: Workshops on dissemination of knowledge of natural resource management, disaster management etc.
Figure 5.12: Community capacity building and self-sustenance through self-help groups etc
Figure 5.13: Dissemination of information on environmental conservation among village community
Figure 5.14: Effectiveness of the NGO in voicing people’s concerns to the government
Figure 5.15: Project site visited by the NGO post-project completion
Figure 5.16: Outcomes of the project implemented by the NGO
Figure 5.17: Government sponsored scheme run in the area
Figure 5.18: Agency running the government sponsored scheme
Figure 5.19: Performance of the government sponsored scheme
Figure 5.20: Functioning of the NGO vis-à-vis Government
Figure 5.21: Improvements in agriculture and allied activities
Figure 5.22: Tackling issue of soil erosion
Figure 5.23: Contribution in soil-water conservation
Figure 5.24: Forest conservation and tree plantation
Figure 5.25: Management of public utilities
Figure 5.26: Self-Help Groups
Figure 5.27: Disseminating information on environmental conservation
List of Photo Plates

Photo Plate 1: Some Glimpses of the Environmental Conservation Activities in the Study Area

Photo Plate 2: Interviews of the Functionaries of Selected NGOs

Photo Plate 3: Interviewing the Respondents of the Community

Photo Plate 4: Some NGO Interventions for Resource Conservation and Livelihood Enhancement

Photo Plate 5: Some NGO Interventions for Resource Conservation and Capacity Building