Acknowledgements

The course of this Ph.D. has been like a long journey with lots of ups and downs, tunnels, bridges and crossroads. I feel an enormous sense of gratitude towards all the people who have walked this path along with me, in full or part, and have given me their academic, moral and material contribution, support and encouragement. I really needed that. Since this place might be my only opportunity to thank them in an official document, I beg the readers’ comprehension of this lengthy list:

- It is my proud privilege to thank my esteemed supervisor Prof. Arun K. Sinha, Head, Department of Mathematics, DEI, who introduced me to this subject. Without his ineffable support, academic guidelines and inspiration this Ph.D. would not have become a reality.

- I will fail in my duty if I do not express my sincere thanks to Dr. Ravinder Kumar, who gave a tremendous amount of acceleration to my work.

- Distinguished Prof. J. B. Shukla, Department of Mathematics, IIT Kanpur, gave my work a life support with his most valuable comments from time to time. I will never be able to thank him adequately enough for the time he has given and pains he has taken for me.

- I have a deep respect and admiration for Dr. B. Dubey, Department of Mathematical Sciences, Tezpur University, who is a unique combination of knowledge and simplicity. I am heavily indebted to him for showing me new ways of working out mathematics and bringing this work to a conclusive stage. I just cannot thank him enough.
• I have immensely depended on Dr. Satish Kumar, for whenever I was in doubt he always showed me the light with his crystal clear mind. He has always tried to teach me the meaning and importance of “perseverance” which I think I learned the hard way. I have to thank him for his wholehearted support.

• My most sincere thanks to Prof. V.G. Das, Head, Department of Physics and Computer Science, DEI, who is an epitome of help and kindness. The real meaning of can be learnt from him.

• My sincere thanks to Prof. Satya Prakash, Dean, Faculty of Science, DEI, for letting me use the faculty resources freely, whenever needed.

• I am deeply grateful to Prof. P. S. Satsangi, Director, DEI, who has been so kind and considerate in accommodating my requests.

• Thanks to Dr. (Mrs.) Soumya Sinha, for her valuable comments on the work.

• Thanks to Dr. (Mrs.) Rama Sinha, for letting me use her books and relevant literature.

• Special thanks to Dr. P.K. Sinha, Registrar, DEI. His stern looks have often told me to be independent and to keep going on.

• Thanks to Dr. Gursaran for his witty, ever ready, quick and useful tips.

• Thanks to Dr. C.M. Markan for the motivation and for keeping my feet on the ground. If you look through his eyes then you feel as if the world is just like a straight line. Simple!

• Thanks to Dr. Sahab Das Kaura for always taking time off to listen to my problems and supporting me morally and in many administrative affairs. There is something in his charismatic smile, which makes the world look easier.

• Thanks to Dr. Dayal Prasad Gupta, for providing me with literature on mathematical ecology in biology. And also for making me laugh in my distress.
• Thanks to Rachita Mahendru, Kriti Priya Saxena and Gaurav Shukla, for helping me out during the lonely and difficult days at IIT Kanpur.

• Special thanks to Mrs. M. Das, Principal Prem Vidyalaya, with whom I have always felt a great sense of security. Any problems and she would be there with solutions.

• What can I say of Ankur Das! An absolutely amazing friend and a brother in the true sense. I never have to ask him for anything, I just tell him. Each and every activity in the course of this Ph.D. has gone through his analytic eyes.

• Thanks to Sanjeev Yadav for his constant motivation and encouragement.

• Special Thanks to Sudha Gilroy for her everlasting care and for taking so much pain for me.

• A very special thanks to my cousin Ashwani Saini, who is more than a real brother to me. He, not for a single moment, let me feel that I would be short of any kind of resources, ever.

• Last but not the least, my warm regards, thanks and apologies for my mother and sisters Anjali and Namita, who had to bear my tantrums and still support me unquestionably and sometimes unreasonably, all through these years.
