ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

First of all the gratitude is due to almighty lord ‘Krishna’ who gave me the strength to bring-forth the thesis to light. The accomplishment of thesis is accolade and rejoicing to me, and kudos of this achievement surely goes to my learned Ph.D. supervisor and I express cordial reverence and deep sense of gratitude to Dr. (Mrs.) Neerja Jha, Scientist-‘G’, Birbal Sahni Institute of Palaeobotany, for her kind supervision and enormous encouragement, and sincere support in addition to critical revision of thesis draft of the present studies. It is her philosophical profundity and zeal for palynological studies that influenced me and always exhorted in keeping myself intact with present research work in high spirit that really prove an impetus to the studies. Moreover her prodigious mentorship and guidance, as well as her drive and proactive attitude were truly invaluable in helping me with the research work. Her truly scientific intuition has made her a constant oasis of ideas and passions in science, which exceptionally inspired and enriched my growth as a researcher.

I am greatly indebted to Assistant Prof. (Dr.) Yogesh Joshi, Kumaun University, I take the opportunity with immense pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude and honour to him for his keen interest, kind guidance, discussion, enormous encouragement and constant inspirations that he has adhered throughout the course of study.

I express my ardent gratitude to Prof. (Dr.) Sunil Bajpai, Director, Birbal Sahni Institute of Palaeobotany for providing necessary research facilities, help and constant encouragement.

With Kowtow and appreciation I wish to express my sincere gratitude and profuse thanks to Prof. (Dr.) Hema Joshi, Head and Convener, Department of Botany, Kumaun University for scholarly advices and innumerable necessary helps extended in scientific and administrative works along with moral support.

Author is thankful to Shri M. Basva Chari, former Chief General Manager, Singareni Collieries Company limited, Kothagudem for the facilities extended for collection of samples in various areas and providing the necessary field details and to the other members of Exploration Division for their cooperation during field visits. Mr.
Seetharam Rao, Dy. General Manager, Belampalli Division, Mr. J. Shareef, Dy. General Manager, Ramagundam Division, Dr. D.N. Sharma, Dy. General Manager, Mr. Hanumant Rao and Mr. Rana Pratap of SCCL are cordially acknowledged for their kind help during the field visit. The help rendered by Shri ADP Rao, MECL during the collection of samples and for providing necessary details is thankfully acknowledged.

I am highly obliged to enlightened Dr. Srikanta Murthy and Dr. (Mrs.) Pauline K. Sabina for their support, cooperation and enormous encouragement. No word can adequately express my gratitude and obsequiousness I owe to them for stoical counselling and perpetual encouragement whenever needed. A deep sense of gratitude is acknowledged to Dr. (Mrs.) Neha Aggarwal, for her monumental guidance on various aspects related to my work. She had been my altruistic steerteacher from the very beginning of studies, till its completion.

It is my privilege to express my heartfelt gratefulness and sincere thanks to Professor (Dr.) Lalit Tiwari, D.S.B. campus, Kumaun University, Nainital, Professor (Dr.) Santosh K. Yadav, D.S.B. campus, Kumaun University Nainital who provided remarkable help in administrative part during Ph.D. registration and being an immense source of inspiration throughout the course of studies.

I dedicate and feel extremely proud to express my profound regards, stupendous gratitude beyond accountability to my beloved grandfather, heavenly Shri Ram Joshi, for his affection and teachings and a great personality in my life and grandmother Smt. Savitri Joshi. Overwhelmed with emotions and sentiments I am unable to express my sense of obligation for filial encouragement received from my dear parents who deserve special mention for their inspirational support and good wishes.

My Father Shri Mahesh P. Joshi, inculcated strength, positivity, courage and intellectual pursuit in me since childhood. His never ending support and guidance always helped me to choose the right path. My Mother Smt. Ganga D. Joshi sincerely raised me with her love and care. I wish to thank my brothers and sisters, Harinarayan Joshi, Anuj Joshi, Khushbu Joshi, Mahima Joshi whose lovable company, appreciation, cheering support and understanding always strengthened me through my life.
I applaud and grateful to my dear friends for their indispensable support, Ms. Priyanka Monga, Ms. Kanupriya Gupta, Ms. Shreya Mishra, Mr. Vikram Partap Singh, Ms. Debarati Nag, Mr. Premraj Uddandam, Mr. Randheer Sanjeevni, Ms. Ranjana, research scholars at BSIP for their help in various ways. The eternal memories and smiles of golden times cannot be erased by time sprouted with all my friends.

The expression of my gratitude will remain incomplete if I fail to acknowledge the enjoyable company, silent wishes, care, assistance, useful insight and moral support of my childhood friends, Mr. Satyendra Pal Singh, Mr. Ranjeet Kumar and Mr. Rishi Katheria, Mr. Shailendra Pratap Singh, Mr. Vishnu-Kant, Mr. Jaspal Singh Rao, Ms. Suruchi Shakya and Ms. Namrata Singh.

In the last but not least, I thank everyone who directly or indirectly important to the successful completion of thesis.

HARINAM JOSHI