The study aimed to standardize four herbal formulations, i.e., Ashokarishta, Sitopaladi churna, Chandraprabha vati and Punarnavadi mandur, marketed by various companies. The quality auditing procedures included analysis of moisture content, ash value and pH. The study also determined the presence of heavy metals and microbial contamination. The formulations were also pharmacologically evaluated for anti-inflammatory activity.