BIBLIOGRAPHY

1) Alfred Sauvy (1966):
“A General Theory of Populaiton”, we identified and Nicolson, London,
Pp. 36-41.

“Delination of area into economic region by population characteristics”,
Geographical review of India–vol-36, No.-1 pp.188.

“Special Analysis of the levels of regional development in Madhya

4) A.B.Savadi (2007):
“The Mega State Maharashtra”, Nirali Prakashan, Budhawar Peth, Pune
pp-14.18

5) Bajaj Nirmal (1963):
“A regional study of population in Ambula District”. A Dessertation submitted to panjab University,Chandigad.pp 31-32.

6) B. Arunachalam (1967):
“Maharashtra”, Published by Mahendrakumar A. Seth Co. Bombay,
P-268.
“Regional planning a case study of Marathwada Region”, Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics, Pune. P-3.

8) Bharadwaja S. M. and Harrey M.F. (1975):

9) Banerjee Maya (1977):

12) Bhat and Mani P. N. (2001):

13) Chatterji S.P and Ganguli P.T. (1943):
“Crop live stock and enterprises combination in England and Wales”,

15) Chandrashekhar S. (1964):
“Growth of population in Madras city”, population review, vol. no. - 5
pp. 25-35.

“Rural and Urban sex ratio in England and Wales”. Economic in Social

“The world Geography of Irrigation”, Edinburgh Oliver and Boynd, pp-“Demension of inter district disparities in the levels of development in Madhya Pradesh - 1971” Indian geographical Journal - vol-53, No-I, pp-21-29.
10-21.

“Introduction to Population Geography”. Kalyani publisher, New Delhi-
pp- 98.
21) C. Shivarama Krishnarao and Mohammad Iqbal Ali (1986):
“Kurukshetra”.

“A geography of population”, Kalyani Publisher (New Edition), New Delhi, vol-5, pp-74-81.

“Aspects of Human Fertility a Socio-Economic study”, University of Kalyani, West Bengal.

“Geography of population” concept, determinants and patterns Kalyani publication, Ludhiyana (5th Edition).

29) Devis Kingsley (1955):
“Social and Demographic Aspects of Economics development in India”.
Simoson Kuznets ET. All (Eds) Economic Growth Brazil, India, Japan,
Duke University press, Durnam

“The Decline proportion of female sex in Madhya Pradesh, Raipur”.

“Impact of metropolitan city on the surrounding region”, A study of South Kerala, Maharashtra concept, publication Co- New Delhi, Pp. 3

“Demographic development in a leveling economy” A case studies of

35) Dr. Balbir Singh Negi and Dr. Nirmala Rani Negi (1991):
“Statistical Geography & Remote Sensing”. Durga offset printers,

36) Dinanath Varma (1992):
“Population pattern” Jaithosh Prakashan, Ahmedabad and Lucknow
37) Dr. Pandurang Keche (1997):
“Geography of India” Kailash Publications, Aurangpura, Aurangabad.

38) Dr. Vitthal Gharpure (1999):

39) Dr. K. Chakrawarthy (2006):
“Population geography”. Mohit publication”, New Delhi, pp -12.

“Industrial Activity and Economic Geography”, Hutchinson and Co.Ltd.

42) Franklin S. H. (1956):
“The Pattern of Sex Ratio in Newzealand”.

43) Fulton M. and L. Clinton Hoch (1959):

44) Frank Horimer (1959):
“The Development of demography in the study of population”, Chicago.

“Literacy and Social changes in under developed Countries”, Rural Sociology, pp 12-14

46) Gosal G.S. (1964):
“Literacy in India an Interpretation study” Rural sociology, Vol- 29.
47) Gosal G.S. (1967):
“Regional Aspect of Rural literacy in India”. Transaction of Indian council of Geographer, Vol-4.

49) Ghosh and Santwana(1970):

50) Goutam A. C. (1973):
“Pattern of population and occupational structure in the Sutlej are Area”. Geographical observed, Vol-9.

“Population growth in India”, A spatial perspective, Asian profited Vol-II

“Recent population Growth in India”, Journal of population Geography, Published by Panjab University Chandigarh, pp 33-53.

53) Gurudev Singh and Gosal K (1985):
“Occupational structure of Panjab’s rural population”, Indian Geographical Journal, Vol.-XL.
“Fundamentals of population Geography”, Starling Publisher pvt. Ltd. Delhi, pp. 172-173.

“Fundamental of population Geography”, Starling Publisher pvt. Ltd. Delhi, pp. 1-2.

56) Gupta H. S. and A Bhaghel (1999):

57) Hildreth A. C. Etal (1941):

58) John I. Clark (1965):

61) Jana M. M. (1990):

63) Koh’s R.S. (1958):

“Plant Ecology Genatic and Evolution”, Atmaram and sons, New Delhi, P-10.

69) Krishana Gopal (1997):

“2020 projection of population”, Chandigarh and class structure, swan publication, New Delhi.

70) Langbein W. B. and Wells J.V.B. (1955):

71) Lalit P. Pathak (2007):

“Population studies”, Rawat publication, Jaipur and New Delhi, pp1-2.

72) M.G.Kendall’s (1932):

73) M.G.Kendall’s (1959):

A Dictionary of Statistical Terms, UNESCO.

74) Melezin A. (1963):

75) Mehta and Autarsingh (1980):

76) M. S. Sidhu (1980):
“Introduction to population Geography”, Kalyani Publication, New Delhi.

“Statistical for geographer and social scientist”, concept publication company, New Delhi.

“Population Growth and Agriculture changes in Madhya Pradesh”, Spatial Analisis of their correlates Vol-XVIII, pp-140-142.

80) Maitra Priyatosh (1988):
“Recent Approaches to development and population growth and technological change”, Indian Journal of Economic, Vol - 63/3, pp-299-324

“Introductory methods in population Analysis”, Concept publishing company, New Delhi.

82) Majid Husain (1994):
“Population Geography” pp-179-1s80.

84) Negi B. S. (1972):

85) Navaid Shabit Qazi (2006):

86) Prof. S. A. Qazi and Navaid Shabir Qazi (2006):

88) Prestons (1976):

89) Pandnkar and Sita (1980):

“General Geography of India”, Nirali Prakashan Budhvar Peth, Pune pp-281-282.

94) Prof. S. A. Qazi and Navaid Shabir Qazi (2006):

95) R. N. Mathur (1986):

96) Ramkumar Tivari (1997):

“Indian Economy”, S.Chand and Co.Ltd.Delhi.p-43
99) Schimper A. T. and Wolhen (1903):

100) Sharma J.C. (1966):

103) Shyam and Madhav (1973):

105) Shastri Prabha S. (1975):
“Spatial variation in population growth of Vidarbha”, Deccan Geographers, vol.-VIII.

“A spatial analysis of rural population in Maharashtra state”, The Deccan Geography, vol-XXI.

114) Sadhana Kothari (2003):

116) Trewartha G. T. (1953):

“Geography of population world patterns”, John Wiley and sons, New Delhi.

118) Tiwari R.C. and Nandlal (1983):

120) Thomson W. S. and Lewis D. T.

121) United nations Department of Economics and Social Affairs
Prospected:

122) Veronique Dupout (2004):
123) Williason A.V. (1952):

124) W. G. Barkley (1958):

125) Zelinsky Wilber (1966):
“A Prologue to population Geography”, Prentice Hall N. J.

126) Zamir Alvi (1995):
“Statistical Geography Methods and application”. Rawat publication, Jaipur.

127) www.Osmanabad.gov.in

128) www.Osmanabad.ac.in

129) Http://osmanabad.nic.in