ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The present thesis on the 'Climate Change: Myth or Reality, A Study with Special Focus on Uttarakhand' that I am going to submit to the Allahabad university, Allahabad, is the result of the well wishes of the persons who gave me their full support in this momentous activity of my life, and I should accept that without their help it would not have been possible to accomplish this stupendous task. I don’t want to leave the chance to remember and thank them.

Thesis is basically an idea or art which finds its expressions only under the guidance of a teacher. The present work is basically very theoretical in nature which definitely needed the supervision of somebody who has the tall experience of handling the cumbersome theoretical proposition. I am one of the lucky ones to have found Prof. H.N.Misra as my supervisor.

I wish to place on record my deep sense of gratitude to my research supervisor Prof. H.N.Misra, for his benevolent guidance, sustained encouragement and critical perusal of the work. He gave me his full support in all my problems during my research work and his inspirer appearance, mentor capability, lot of ideas and the care for me, gave me the ideas to understand, think and learn in proper manners.

I would also like to pay my respectful regard to my family members – Smt. Premlata, my mother, Sri D. K. Mishra, my father and my brother for their constant encouragement. On this occasion.

I would like to thank and express gratitude to Prof. B.N.Mishra, Prof. Manorama Sinha and Dr. Sudhakar Tripathi for their fruitful advice from time to time. My thanks are also due to staff of Geography Department for their readiness to help whenever I needed.

Date: 29/11/2016

Ashutosh Mishra