ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I hereby express my heartfelt thanks and gratefulness to ......

The God Almighty ! ,

Dr. T S Girishkumar - my ’guru’ and the master craftsman, who guides my life over and above my research and academics. He designed and gifted me the life of a teacher and academics. His words of console and confidence are as pure as the light and energy from the sun.

My dearest Papa who followed this research with unfailing interests; by bringing a bunch of books on every evening after his office hours and it must always remain a matter of deep sorrow to me that I could not show this finished work to him. My loving Amma, who glows herself throughout her life to illuminate my future with dignity; inspite of her constant illness.

My student Ms. Soumya Jose, who pushed and pulled me into the research through the happy compulsions of care, concern and love with the frequent naughty calls of ’achacha’: I remember gratefully the pain she had undertaken in correcting and checking each and every word of my thesis with an eye of perfection.

The childish student Rohini S. Kumar who purposefully awakens me from my sleep through her mobile phone with a delightful distraction and compels me to read the material collected and bundled for my thesis.

The most kind, benevolent and loving Hon’ble Vice Chancellor of Mahatma Gandhi University - Dr. (Prof.) Jancy James, who often protected me under her wings as a son, who shielded me with the armoury of advices and the compulsions to be a noble academic.

The pious and gentle academic administrator Hon’ble Pro. Vice Chancellor of Mahatma Gandhi University – Dr. (Prof.) K. K. Unuskutty, who often allowed a patient listening to my worries and anxieties; with Godly blessings to become a renowned academics in my career.

My dearest teacher - Mrs. Rekha M. Sasidharan, who taught me to aim high through hard work, dedication, sincerity and commitment.

My loving brother and Professor - Dr. Sreedharan Josh Choonadu from Kannur University, who with his prolonged telephone calls of inspiration and strategies purposefully ignited me.

My loving tutor family - Dr. Suresh Janaeswaran and Dr. Lekha, who attracted me to the wonderful world of History and became role models both in the class and life.

The family of ‘aliyans’ – Mr. Sakkeer Hussain and Tathamma with Maria, Yousuf and Isa who happily funded and financed my periods of research with bread, butter, lunch, supper, fun and love. Their smile and tease made me more lovable and childish.

The duo and master brains in Mahatma Gandhi University administration department – Mr. N. Sarngadharan and Mr. A. Muralidharan Pillai, who were instrumental in my academic life with words of motivation and vision of caution.

My sister of motivation and scolding’s – Dr. Sherly P. Anandh
My good Samaritans - Dr. T.V. Tulasidharan, Dr. Nandakumar Kalarickal, Mr. R. Krishnakumar and Mr. T.S. Thampan.

My close confidence, friends and colleagues in the fourth estate – Jabbie as Jabbir Musthari, Deepanguran as V.M. Deepa, Raviettan as N.K. Raveendran, and Pappettan as N. Padmanabhan who often compels me to take an inevitable doctoral degree in Journalism by simply overestimating my academic caliber.

My most beloved guardians - my Papa and Amma at Kattoor Madom in Thazhava, my Vinuettan and Chechi with 'Kuttus' Nikhil – they were my strength, support and spirit.

Finally, my better half and my soul mate – Sindhu V. for her selfless love, prayers and lust for perfection in life, where nothing is impossible.

Sony J. Raj