ACKNOWLEDGEMENT
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author feels boundless pleasure in placing on record his sincere expression of inestimable gratitude, indebtedness and deep sense of devotion to his beloved Guide Dr. A. Dorai raj, DANTDA-Adviser, Livestock Development Project for his abiding interest, enlightened guidance, incessant inspiration, creative suggestions, constructive criticisms, persistent encouragement and timely help rendered during the study period.

The author humbly offers his ineffable sincere thanks to Dr. B.S. Nagarajan, Director, Departments of Adult and Continuing Education and Extension, GRI, Gandhigram, Co-guide for his inexplicable help, adroit guidance, timely suggestions, excellent counselling and enthusiastic support evinced throughout the study period.

The author owes a great deal to Sri. M. Scmdaramari, Lecturer in Community Development and Agricultural Extension for his meticulous care, unwavering interest, unstinted help, eximious guidance, unhesitating support which buttressed him in bringing this dissertation a reality.

The author recalls and expresses thanks to Dir. K. Dhamu, Associate Professor (Statistics), Agricultural college and Research Institute, Madurai and Dr. N.D. Mani, Senior Lecturer, Department of Rural Development, GRI, Gandhigram, for their generous help and support.

The author will fail in his duties if he did not thank his beloved colleagues, Messrs. S.K. Gopal Chief Training Organiser, Krishi Vigyan Kendra, R. tfdhayakumar, M. Seethalakashmi, S. Ganesh, G.S. Kannan, K. Govindan, Faculty of Agriculture and Animal Husbandry, Dr. David Ravindran, Department of Biology and S. Elankumaran, and S. Gunasekaran, PRA (ADP) Project, Gandhigram Rural Institute, Gandhigram who had made a lot of personal sacrifices, solicitous assistance and for their helping hands in innumerable ways to pursue the studies in the best possible manner.

Place: Gandhigram.
Date: 27-11-1995. (T. Ranganathan)