Acknowledgements

I take this as a golden opportunity to express my heartfelt gratitude towards all my elders who have been a constant source of help, assistance and encouragement throughout this work. I extend my special thanks to each and every one without whom this study would not have become a reality.

I owe my sincere thanks to Prof. S. C. Dubey, Head, Department of English and Modern European Languages, University of Allahabad and Prof. L.R. Sharma for sparing their precious time in helping and supporting me throughout this endeavour.

I deem it a proud privilege to get a much longed-for opportunity to express my profound sense of gratitude and veneration to my noble, able and considerate supervisor, Dr. Indrani Mukherji. Her sustained guidance, whole-hearted encouragement, innovative suggestions and constructive criticism and her calm composure, conviction of purpose and clear concept have gone a long way in the successful completion and shall be a lifelong gifted memory for me.

I am thankful to the authorities and staff of the Central Library, University of Allahabad and National Library, Kolkata for providing necessary matter that has been of immense help in the compiling and processing of the whole work.
I am equally thankful to all the non-teaching staff of the Department of English and Modern European Languages, for the valuable help rendered to me from time to time during the course of my study.

I gratefully acknowledge the judicious, impeccable and valuable suggestions along with the constant encouragement rendered by my Grandfather who has been a constant source of inspiration for me.

I am highly indebted to my husband and in-laws, for their kind support, sincere encouragement and for bearing with me during the course of this research work.

Words would not suffice in mentioning the undaunted zeal and endless efforts put in by my parents. Their perpetual motivation has truly helped in the compilation of the thesis.

It goes without saying that it is only with the blessings of the Almighty that I have been able to complete this serious task.
