ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

PhD is just not a degree or educational qualification that one achieves with sheer brilliance of one's own, it requires constant and relentless support from the significant others in your life. I hereby take an opportunity to express my gratitude to all those who made this journey worth experiencing.

Prof. Sasmita Palo, my research supervisor, thanks for accepting me as your research student. You have always supported me in all my endeavors and forced me to dream big. Always encouraged me go for the impossible and fathom it. Ma’am, thanks for giving me enough space to carry out the research. You have the ability to draw a thin line between guiding and structuring things for the student. At no point of time, you enforced your ideology. It is difficult to deal with a student like me who is always anxious and on the edge but you have been successful in doing so. Every time when I used to get out of your room there used to be a smile on my face. Thanks Ma’am for being there!

Prof. Jayaram, your contribution in my academics has been immense. It is because of you, I developed an inter-disciplinary approach. You have brought a great deal of flexibility in my thought process and made it eclectic. Thanks for treating me with superb coffee and home-cooked food. Rather than ‘thanking you’ for the knowledge you imparted to me, I would like to pass it to someone who requires it.

I would like to express my gratitude to my DAC- Prof. Satyajit Majumdar and Dr. Srinath Jagannathan for offering key insights at regular interval. Dr. Premlatha (Discussant) and Prof. D.K Srivastava (Research Methodology Expert), Dr. Zubin Mulla, Dr. J.B.P Sinha thanks for your inputs.

Research methodology center (Dr. Anil Sutar, Prof. D. P Singh, Prof. P.C Saxena, Dr. Ravindaran, Prof. Rajshree Mathani) thanks for your support during Mphil course work and dissertation.

Prof Girishwar Misra, Prof Anand Prakash, Prof. Gopa Bhardwaj, Prof. Honey Oberoi, Prof. Ashok Nagpal, Prof. Ameeta Parsuram, Dr. Meenakshi Mehta, Dr. Neeti Sachdeva, Dr. Rekha Malhotra, Dr. Sunita Garg, Dr. Suneet Verma, Prof Ashum Gupta- Thank you all for instilling Psychology in my DNA. I would like to extend my gratitude to the exceptional work carried out Durganand Sinha and J.B.P Sinha in the field of psychology that has constantly motivated me.
Howard Giles, without your support and constant help this thesis would not have been possible. Thanks for helping me in conceptualizing the research and sharing your works.

Whenever I used to feel low and question myself that why am I doing PhD! I used to fall back on existentialism and read some of the classic works (Albert Camus, Franz Kafka, Nietzsche) for getting out of the slumber mode. Thanks for your exceptional works.

I would express my sincere thanks to Purnima ma’am, Susheela ma’am and whole DSO staff, who made administrative tasks easy. Financial assistance is of an extreme importance to a PhD scholar, I would like to thank ICSSR for offering me doctoral fellowship.

I would express my gratitude to the organizations and participants who participated in the present study.

I would like to extend my gratitude to all the libraries (JNU, Ratan Tata Library-Delhi School of Economics, Central Reference Library-North Campus, Psychology department library-North Campus, FMS library-Delhi, IIM Ahmedabad Library, BHEL e-resources, TISS library, British Council) that I visited for secondary sources.

Steve Jobs, gadgets invented by your organization became extension of my existence, thanks for the same.

Aastha, I don’t know how to put my feelings in words when it comes to you. I really fall short of words. We have together made moments and memories that we are going to cherish life long. You have made me a better person. It is seldom to have a friend who critiques and corrects you at every juncture. You have always taken brunt of my mood swings and patiently calmed me in tensed moments. Before I could communicate what I am going through, you could gauge it. The endless fun which we had – you know what I mean’, our code language for the several things, our wicked ways to become famous in month of January (every year). Always staring at each other’s plate that who is going to eat more! Aastha, we need to thank to the Batch of 60-70 students who have really motivated us to do several things in span of these five years. The wicked sunny moments that we have created and are going to create in future would be a source of entertainment for coming generations. Having you in my life is like having a family away from family.

Rohan, thanks for being there and bringing smile and laughter in our lives. Your ability to dilute tension and make any one mentally relaxed is highly commendable.
Your motivational messages before any presentation or exam really helped me. Thanks for everything.

Nikita and Gunjan, thanks for being there!

Everyone has certain benchmarks in their lives that really motivate them to strive for the best. I would like to express my gratitude to my ideals- Suresh Kumar Singh, Sachin Tendulkar, Malvika, and Rafael Nadal.

Siddhant, you came into my life in 2011 and things changed for good. You have played the role of a sheath anchor to the lonely journey of PhD. The days when I used to feel down and out, you were the reason for my smile. On several occasions I used to wear a smile and enthusiasm given by you. Without your support this would not have been possible.

Madhulika and Malvika you have always encouraged and stood by me in all my endeavors. The endless conversation, which we had over the perils of doing a course like PhD and both of you gave me constant guidance and motivation that this is what I am meant to do. Madhulika, I would like thank you for making me aware what academic excellence is through your academic achievements. Malvika, you made me realize that being diligent can make you win any battle. Sunil for the last decade you have supported me silently and unconditionally. Never made a big deal out of it and always considered it to be your responsibility. It is difficult to meet a person like you and I am really fortunate to have you in my life. Santosh, my techy guy, your endless guidance to a technology illiterate like me cannot go unaccounted. Your ability to explain things in a layman language was really helpful to me.

Manjula and Suresh, both of you have been more of a friend than typical parents. The whole PhD journey has brought us closer and strengthened our bond. My all efforts are directed to see a slightest glint of pride in your eyes. Manjula, you have endlessly sacrificed things you deserved and took a stand for my betterment against patriarchal society, thanks for bestowing unconditional love and support.

I would like express my gratitude towards my grandparent (Rama Devi, Shyam Pari, Thakur &Bhagwan, Saryu Singh)

Lastly, I would like to thank Nirmla Momin (section officer), Dining hall Staff & cooks, SMS canteen, Staff at library, attending staff at hostel/campus for your services.
