That, who is ungrateful to man, can not be grateful to GOD. Receiving help from someone casts a moral obligation upon the receiver to feel gratitude and express it honestly and humbly.

First of all, I express my heartfelt gratitude to my reverend Supervisor Prof. O.P. Malaviya (Formerly Reader, Department of English, University of Allahabad) who gave me his kind consent to provide me his valuable guidance in spite of his hectic schedule. While starting to work on this project, I found it not very easy to collect the required material and give my thoughts an orderly shape but under the noble and excellent supervision of my reverend supervisor I could gradually feel it easy to execute this work to its end. He kept on delivering his kind guidance and helped me conceiving the work. And the result is evident.

Simultaneously, I was showered a very invaluable help from Prof. S. C. Dubey (Head of the Department, Department of English, University of Allahabad), Prof. L. R. Sharma, Prof. S. D. Roy, Dr. R. K. Singh, Prof. Gunjan Susheel etc. (all of them are the renowned scholars and learned faculty members of the Department of English, University of Allahabad) in the completion of this work. My pen finds itself unable to choose the words of thanks for these great luminaries. However, I express my heartfelt thanks to my learned GURUs and implore them to keep me under the shade of their affection and guidance in future also.

This work could see the light of the day because some of my friends helped me in the collection of the concerned and important material viz. Dr. Rafeequ Ahmad, Sri Kuldeep Awasthi, Sri Surendra Pratap Singh, Sri Vindhya Vasini Pandey (Librarian, A. U) and Mr. Ibraheem Masood (Delhi). I am heartily thankful to them for their selfless help to me. I am also especially thankful to Miss Shaeka, Mr. Areeb and Mr. Nazm who helped in making notes, printing and other related work of this thesis selflessly.

And last but not the least; I must say that in spite of all these things, I could not have completed this work if I had not been provided utmost care, moral support and courage by all of my family members and in-laws. All of them helped me a lot, rather sacrificed a lot for me, if I say it verbatim. I express a lot of thanks to them.
from the depth of my heart. I dedicate this thesis to All Merciful & Beneficent GOD and my parents Late Mr. Abdul Jalil Siddiqui and Late Mrs. Akhtar Fatma who are not in this world to see the output of their sacrifices for me but at each and every step and moment, I feel the lack their presence earnestly.

Finally, I feel immense pleasure introducing my work “Humanistic Concern in the Novels of Ernest Hemingway” and feel more pleasure in expressing my thanks to all those, but to their help, this work could not have been brought into being.
