Though only my name appears on the cover of this thesis, a great many people have contributed to its production. I owe my gratitude to all those people who have made this research work and thesis possible and because of whom my experience has been one that I will cherish forever.

Firstly, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my advisor Dr. B.K. Mishra for the continuous support of my Ph.D study and related research, for his patience, motivation, and immense knowledge. His guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my Ph.D study.

I owe a debt of sincere thanks and gratitude to Dr. Biswajit Paul, Don Bosco College, Tura, who had guided me throughout the period of thesis writing. His constant support and encouragement was a boon for me.

Besides my advisor, I would like to thank the rest of my thesis committee: Prof. S. C. Srivastava, Dr. D. C. Kalita, Dr. B. Mathew and Dr. Lolly S. Pereira of Department of RDAP, NEHU, Tura Campus, for their insightful comments and encouragement, but also for the hard question which incented me to widen my research from various perspectives.

I owe a lot to the ex and the present head of the department of RDAP, Prof S. C. Srivastava and Dr. D. C. Kalita. They had always supported me and guided me at different times of my tenure as a research scholar in the department. My aspiration remains accomplished to have them in my stride.

I am privileged to have come across a person like Dr D. C. Kalita. He has immensely contributed with his superior technical knowhow that he has always shared with me and looked towards setting better standards which is admirable. His knowledge of statistics was a boon for me and has helped in analyzing the data systematically. I would ever remain grateful to him for his guidance.

My sincere thanks goes to Dr. A.K. Pal (ex HOD), Dr. S.K. Gupta and Dr. Alok Sinha of Department of Environmental Science and Engineering, ISM, Dhanbad, who provided me an opportunity and gave access to the laboratory and research facilities. Without their precious support it would not be possible to conduct this research.

The technical and strategic support provided by Dr Pradeep Mitra, Department of Paediatrics, Central Hospital, Dhanbad, Jharkhand had been of immense help in the collection of human milk is commendable. I am thankful to all those who had at various points of my research has given me the necessary inputs for which I shall remain grateful to them.

I extend my sincere thanks to all the administrative staffs for their timely help support and cooperation. I also thank all the non teaching staff of the department for their help in one way or the other.

I was immensely benefitted when I got the access to the library facility in NEHU, Tura Campus for which I am thankful to Dr. A. K. Mondal, Assistant Librarian, NEHU, Tura Campus.

Last but not the least I thank my family, fellow research scholars and friends for their constant support who have been the source of energy and motivation throughout the years of my research work. My husband, Arindam Barman, has been my mentor and inspiration and would always remain so.

Rituparna Mitra Barman

Research Scholar