Acknowledgements

At the outset, I express my profound gratitude and indebtedness to my research supervisor, my teacher, mentor and my guide Dr. C. Isaac Jebastine, Professor and Head, Department of English, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli, for his valuable guidance, support, and encouragement during the course of my research. The unstinting devotion with which he guided me and the impeccable care and pains he took in going through the thesis have made this work what it is. Words can hardly convey how much I feel indebted to the family members of my research supervisor, Dr. V. Lydia Arulselvi, I. Terence Samuel, I. Timothy Paul, and Mr. C. Chelladurai Devaraj for considering me as one of their family members and extending their constant support and encouragement in the course of my research.

I am also grateful to the members of the Doctoral Committee constituted for me by Bharathidasan University for the valuable suggestions offered by them at various stages of research: Dr. A. Mohamed Ibrahim, Vice-principal, Associate Professor and Head, Department of English, Jamal Mohamed College, Tiruchirappalli, and Dr. K. Renuka Devi, Associate Professor and Head, Department of English, Seethalakshmi Ramaswami College, Tiruchirappalli.

I am thankful to the faculty members of the Department of English, Bharathidasan University, for their help and encouragement. I thank the Librarians of Bharathidasan University and Study Centre for Indian Literature in English and Translation, American College, for providing research materials.

I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to my parents Mr. T. Mudiazhagan and Mrs. R. Chitra, and my brother Er. M. Chitravarman for their encouragement and support besides making countless sacrifices throughout the period of my research. My uncle Dr. T. Poongunran and aunty Dr. Roselet deserve special thanks for their continuous motivation and support. I express my sincere gratitude to my father-in-law Mr. C. Jayapal and my mother-in-law Mrs. J. Kalaiselvi for their cooperation and constant support which helped me pursue my research uninterruptedly.

I owe my deepest gratitude to my dear husband Er. J. Vinoth for his eternal support and also for his understanding of my goals and aspirations. His infallible love has always been my strength, and his patience and sacrifices will remain a source of inspiration throughout my life.

Above all I thank the Almighty for giving me enough strength and power which helped me submit the thesis on time.
