REFERENCES AND BIBLIOGRAPHY

The Cashew 19 (3) : 8-11.

The Cashew, 6(3): 14-19.

34. NABARD(2007): Sindhudurg district Maharashtra. National bank for Agricultural and rural development Maharashtra regional office, Pune-

The Cashew 6 (3) : 11-13.

Page no.82, 83, 84, 85, 86

40. Negi B. S. : “Economic And Commercial Geography of India” Kedarnath Ramnath Publication Meerut page no.106

42. Potential Linked Credit Plan (PLP 2007) 2008-09: Sindhudurg district Maharashtra. National bank for Agricultural and rural development Maharashtra regional office, Pune page no.2, 3, 30. 73, 74,
43. Ramandev, B.J. (1999) : “Economics of Cashew processing units in Uttar Trust Belgaum,1993. Page no.7, 9, 74, 76, 80, 81.
regionization based on water resources and agronomy”, MBP Journal,
Vol. xviii no 1 pp 17-23.
47. Sharma R. P.(2004): “Handbook of Agriculture” Indian Council of Agricultural Research New Delhi page no. 1071, 1072.
at a Glance” page no. 343
49. Singh, H.P. (1998) : “Cashew development in India. challenges and opportunities” key note address in national seminar at International centre, Goa
economics analysis of cashew cultivation in South Archot district, Tamil Nadu” The Cashew, 6 : 34-36.
Delhi
52. Social and economical report Sindhudurg District 2005-2006
53. Strategic Research and Extension Plan of Sindhudurg District Agricultural Technology Management Agency, Sindhudurg page no. 02, 08

55. Tawade M, (1980): “Geography of fruit farming”, Rane publication, Pune

66. websites :
   i. http:dacnet.nic.in/cashew coca/process
   ii. Intermediate technology development group iii Sindhudurg District govt .in
   iv. Small Scale cashew nut processing –C
   v. National Research Center for Cashew, Puttur
   vi. National Horticulture Board