Human being as a single individual and his incessant importance in his surrounding is a special area of interest to Dr. V.T. Girdhari. I reciprocate with the idea of individual. It is a fortunate coincidence that the topic and author are of common interest. When the process of work started, he channelised my reading and put me on the track. His zest and zeal for perfection made the work intellectually satisfying. From time to time he guided the work very meticulously. Due are my heart felt gratitude for him not only for the sake of work, but also for his humanitarian attitude.

It is my moral responsibility to thank Mrs. Radha Girdhari for her moral boosting.

It is part of my duty to thank the staff of IACIS, Hyderabad (formerly ASRC) for their co-operation.

I should also acknowledge the cooperation extended by the principal and the Department of English, N.S.B. College, Nanded. I owe them thanks.

And in backdrop there is my family and very few like-minded people, I am grateful to God for them.

Nanded. (G. Manoja)
