Works Cited

Blackwell Companions to Literature and Culture

---. “‘The Authority of the Ancients’:Blake and Wilkins’ Translation of the Bhagvat-Geeta.” Clark and Suzuki 145-60

Print

---. “Accessing India: Orientalism, anti-‘Indianism’ and the Rhetoric of Jones and Burke.”

Fulford and Kitson 48–88

---. “Plants Pagodas and Penises: Southey’s Oriental Imports.” Pratt 188-201.

---. “Coleridge's Sequel to Thalaba and Southey's Prequel to Christabel.” Vallins, Oishi and Perry 56-70.

Harries, Natalie Tal. “‘The One Life Within Us and Abroad’: Coleridge and Hinduism.” Vallins, Oishi and Perry 131–44.

Leask, Nigel. “‘Wandering through Eblis’: absorption and containment in Romantic exoticism.” Fulford and Kitson 165-88.

Letters Writ by a Turkish Spy, who liv’d five and forty years...at Paris: Giving an Account...of the most remarkable transactions of Europe...from 1637 to 1682. Trans. From French, by W Bradshaw, and edited by Robert Midgley, MD. 8 Vols. London, 1637-1693.

Marshall, P. J. “British-Indian connections c. 1780 to c. 1830: the empire of the officials.” Franklin 45 - 64. Print.

---. “Words and Things: Southey’s East and the Materiality of the Oriental Discourse.” Pratt 167-86

Sudan, Rajani. Fair Exotics: Xenophobic Subjects in English Literature, 1720-1850.

Print.

Print.

Sung, Mei-Ying. “Blake and the Chinamen.” Clark and Suzuki 63-76.

Trautmann, Thomas R. Aryans and British India: New Perspectives on Indian Pasts.

