All praises to the God to whom our worship belongs, no other being possesses this right and is neither worthy of being worshipped as God himself says in The Holy Quran:

And among people and moving creatures and grazing livestock are various colors similarly. Only those fear Allah, from among His servants, who have knowledge. Indeed, Allah is Exalted in Might and Forgiving. (Chapter 35, Verse 28)

First of all, I am indebted to my supervisor Prof. Samina Khan, Department of English. It is she who believed in me and trusted me that I am able to do this huge task of research about Shakespeare. She always helped me and always provided suggestions and her guidance and above all she has helped me in every difficulty that came along my way in Aligarh Muslim University. She is a kind human being, always helpful and I am very lucky to be her student. It is her beautiful nature that she is ready to help any human being that comes to her, whether she knows him or not.

I am thankful to my father and mother because it was actually their dream to see me as a PhD scholar, although I never believed in myself. It was their belief that I am able to achieve such greatness while I was in doubt whether I am able to do or not. After my parents, I am thankful to my brother Husam and my sisters who supported this dream of my parents and always helped me and motivated me in this pursuit. I am also thankful to my niece Elyin, who made me happy when I was sad about life and it is her smile that makes me positive and optimistic about life. I am thankful to my nephew Ali who is one of the funniest kids that was born in this world. My family is Allah's greatest gift to me and I am thankful to you my Allah. I am blessed and I ask your blessings forever in my life.
