Acknowledgements

First and foremost, I express my indebtedness to the "ALMIGHTY ALLAH" for all His blessings and kindness, who gave me the strength and health for completing the research work of my thesis. As I cross the academic threshold of life, I would like to acknowledge those who anchored and directed my boat during the typhoons and helped me to reach at my destination.

At the very outset, I would like to record my heartfelt gratitude to my respected teacher and thesis supervisor Dr. Dastgir Alam (Department of Economics, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, India) for his invaluable guidance, cordial advice and constant encouragement throughout this research and helped me to find my way in the most difficult situations. Light hearted words, voice and suggestions lifted all burdens and made my work easier. I feel very fortunate to have this opportunity to work with his and I shall always remain obliged to him greatness in devoting a large share of his valuable time and knowledge to this research work. I can only say that my heart over-flows with deep gratitude for him.

I am obliged to Prof. Syed Noman Ahmad (Professor and Chairman, Department of Economics, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, India) for providing me all the necessary facilities, help and encouragement for carrying out this research work in a more effective way.

I also express my sincere thanks to Prof. Nisar Ahmad Khan, Prof. Mohd. Izhar Ahmad (Retd.), Prof. Md. Abdus Salam, Prof. S.M. Javed Akhter, Prof. Md. Tariq (Professor of Department of Economic, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, India) for their valuable advice and kind cooperation. My sincere thanks are also due to Dr. Mohd Saeed Khan, Dr. Mohd Asif, Dr. Mohd Azam Khan, Dr. Jamil Ahmad, Dr. Firdous Ahmad, Dr. Shahina Perween, and Shirin Rais of the Department of Economics, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh for their kind support and encouragement.

Equally, I am also thankful to Mr. Aqueel Ahamd, Mr. Imran Ahmad Khan, Mr. Ahmad Ali, Mr. Mohd. Mujeeb and Mr. Faisal Ali Khan non-teaching staff of the Department of Economics, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh.
I am deeply indebted for the assistance and cooperation of the Librarian and Staff of Maulana Azad Library, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, for their cooperation and willingness to providing me all necessary facilities of Books, Abstracts, Journals and other relevant research materials during the time of my research work.

A special thanks to my research colleagues and friends for discussing various issues and sharing their experiences with me.

I owe respectfully my greatest appreciation and very special thanks to my noble parents (Mr. Ali & Mrs. Hesen), brothers Malek, Muneer, Mohammad, Mahmoud and sisters Amal, Amerah, and Malak, for their constant moral support and mellifluous affection, which helped me to achieve success in every sphere of life and without their kind devotion this thesis would have been a sheer dream.

Finally, I take this opportunity to acknowledge my father Mr. Ali, without whose love, understanding and support, it may not have been possible what I am today. The simple feeling that he always stand with me, when I needed him and filled my heart with great love, and inspired me to keep going.

I also desire to express my sincere thanks to all those who directly or indirectly helped me at various stages of this research study.
