ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, I would like to express my heartiest gratitude to my eternal cheerleader, my Mom Ms. Prativa Banerjee and my lucky icon, my father Mr. Kanchan Banerjee for their constant motivation and blessings. I am grateful to my husband Mr. Ananda Mukherjee for his moral and emotional support to overcome during my struggling days. Without his continuous and constant help it would not be possible for me to reach my goal. I also acknowledge my little son Soham Mukherjee for his best wishes and assistance to complete my Thesis. I would like to express my special appreciation and thanks to my honourable and esteemed Supervisor, (Prof). Dr. S. Shantha Kumar, Pro-Vice chancellor, School of Law, GD Goenka University, Gurugram for being so kind, generous and supportive advisor all through my Thesis writing. His priceless and inspiring teachings will be etched in my mind forever. His innovative ideas, consistent encouragement and his continuous enthusiasm for research motivated and inspired me a lot to complete this research. The work would not have reached its presents shape without his active involvement, encouraging creativity, imagination and constant motivation. Words won’t be adequate to articulate my indebtedness to him and this work is just a short treatise of his immense knowledge of the subject

My sincere regards to Dr. Suku Bhaskaran, President GD Goenka University for his all through inspiration and motivation.

I would like to express my sincere thanks and gratitude to Dr. S. C Gupta and Prof. Gyanesh Sinha for their assistance and unconditional support all throughout my Research work.
I would especially like to thank the library members of Indian Law Institute, New Delhi, NUJS, Kolkata and Dr. Swadesh Kumar, Head Librarian G D Goenka University for their kind support and help to collect data for my Thesis.

A special thanks to my friends and colleagues Dr. Richa & Dr. Mouli Rao for their encouraging words and support.

I am extremely grateful to Mr. Subhayu Banerjee ADJ, 7th Court, Barasat, Kolkata for his scholarly inputs and valuable guidance.

Above all, I owe it all to Almighty for blessing me to complete this research work and giving me an opportunity to help, for the betterment of society.
