ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is matter of immense personal satisfaction and happiness that eventually I have completed D. Phil thesis, which was long overdue. Completion of this research work is a great personal achievement may not be possible without support of various individuals and organizations without whose help and assistance this work would not have been accomplished. Thought provoking discussions with respected seniors and teachers, inspiration and faith of family members and support of friends and institutional libraries made this work possible. It was a terrific training exercise for me and prepared me to undertake future responsibility of life. So, it is my first duty that I acknowledge their support. I take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude towards those who have helped me in one way or the other in the completion of D. Phil thesis.

First of all, I am highly indebted to my supervisor, Professor H.K. Sharma for his scholarly guidance and critically suggestions at every stage of research work. His able and keen supervision, constant encouragement and generous help enable me to sail through the difficult phases during the research, without which this thesis would not have been possible. I also sincerely acknowledge the help of Dr. Sanjeev Kumar H.M., Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, SAARC University New Delhi, who support stumbling my steps initial stage.

I was fortunate to receive valuable insights on various issues discussed in this thesis by interacting with many respected teachers. In this regard I would like to thank for thoughtful provoking discussions to all teachers of department of Political Science University of Allahabad- Prof. Krishna Gupta, Prof. Md. Asalam, Dr. Rajpal Budania, Dr. Shahid Ansasri,
Dr. Anurudha Agrawal, Dr. Pankaj Kumar, and Dr. Kartikey Mishra. I would like to also thank to Dr. E.J. David and Mrs. Ashima Ghosh, both are Associate Professor in Ewing Christian College University of Allahabad, who inspired me towards Political Science and research. I extend my gratitude to the library officials of Indo-American center for Internal studies, IDSA, ICWA, JNU, all in New Delhi as well as the central library of University of Allahabad, Departmental Library of Political Science, G.B. Pant Library, Department of Defence and Strategic Studies University of Allahabad for providing generous support for data collection.

I express my deep regards affection and gratitude to my family for their moral and material support. I am deeply indebted to my father, who takes care of entire family and relived me from joint family responsibilities and provided the opportunity where single mindedly I can indulge in my academic pursuit.

I express my sincere gratitude to my all friends especially Sanjay Pandey, Raj Kumar Jaiswal, Dr. Anil Srivastava, Rajendra Prasad Mishra and Pinky Mishra, who helped me in all possible way, motivated, encouraged and inspired me to complete the work within stipulated time. I am lacking in works to express my sincere gratitude to them.

Finally, I would like to express my gratitude towards the University Grant Commission for Junior Research Fellowship (JRF) and thereby proving the opportunity in such economically adverse condition like me for completion this work.
