CONTENTS

Acknowledgement………………………………………………………………i-ii

Chapter 1 : Introduction 1-34

1.1 Defining the Problem......................... 11
1.2 Defining the Scope and Region............ 12
1.3 Defining the Task............................... 13
1.4 Dividing the Task............................... 13
1.5 Methodology........................................ 17
1.6 Review of Literature........................... 17

Chapter 2 : Energy Imperialism and Politico-Strategic Scenario in South Asia: An Overview 35-97

2.1 Introduction....................................... 35
2.2 Globalisation and its Silence Features of Imperialism................................. 35
2.3 Energy imperialism: Political and Strategic View........................................ 46
2.4 Energy Imperialism and Politico- Strategic Scenario in South Asia............. 70
2.5 Conclusion........................................ 89

Chapter 3 : Energy Politics between India and its Major Neighbours with Special Reference to Pakistan and Bangladesh 98-158

3.1 Introduction........................................ 98
3.2 India Pakistan Political Nexus and Role of External Powers in Bilateral Relation........................................ 99
3.3 Political Nexus between India and Bangladesh........................................... 116
3.4 Energy Politics: Challenges and 125
Chapter 4: Energy Politics between India and its Neighbours Nepal, Bhutan, and Sri Lanka

4.1 Introduction
4.2 India Nepal Political Nexus
4.3 Energy Resources Engagement between India and Nepal
4.4 India Bhutan harmonious Political Milieu
4.5 Energy Co-operation between India and Bhutan
4.6 India Sri Lanka Political and Energy Linkage
4.7 Conclusion

Chapter 5: Search For Energy Security in South Asia in the Age of Globalization: Challenges and Prospects

5.1 Introduction
5.2 Energy Security
5.3 Energy Landscape of South Asia
5.3.1 Coal
5.3.2 Oil
5.3.3 Gas
5.4 Searches for Energy Security