BIBLIOGRAPHY
BIBLIOGRAPHY

Ahmad, S., & Jamshed, M. Nurturing an Agriculture friendly Commodity Derivatives Marketing in India.

K. G. Suhadevan, “Forward Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1952 and Regulation of Commodity Futures markets: Issues and Priorities”.

KRASAVINA, R. REGIONAL COURSE AND POLICIES.

Lone, R. A. Agriculture and Rural Development in India; The Linkages.

Maravi, A. S. Performance Analysis of Indian Agricultural Commodity Market.

Mukhebi, A. W. (1998). The challenges and opportunities of a young commodity exchange in an emerging market economy: the experience of the Kenya agriculture commodity exchange, a paper prepared for the first summit of partners for development organized by the UNCTAD.

Singh, A. (2010). The Indian Farmer, Middlemen and the APMCs. Middlemen and the APMCs (October 18, 2010).

The Kenya Institute for Public Policy Research and analysis, “Is there Need for an East African Commodity Exchange?” May 2012

Winifred N Karugu, “Kenya agricultural Commodity Exchange (KACE): Linking small-scale farmers to national and regional markets”.

BOOKS

REPORTS

UNCTAD, “Farmers and Farmers’ Associations in Developing Countries and their Use of Modern Financial Instruments” , 2002.