Acknowledgement

I am extremely indebted to my teacher, mentor and guide Dr. A. K. Yadav, Associate Professor, Department of Commerce, DDU Gorakhpur University, Gorakhpur, whose convivial and benevolent nature encouraged me to commence this work. Without the unspiring cooperation extended by him my endeavors could not be accomplished.

I have no words to express my profound notions to Prof. Gopinath, Head-Department of Commerce DDU Gorakhpur University; to Prof. P.C. Shukla, Dean- Faculty of Commerce and Head- Department of Business Administration; to Prof. M.C. Gupta, Ex-Head- Department of Business Administration; to Prof. A.K. Tiwari, Ex-Head- Department of Business Administration who helped me at earlier stage of this work, gave me useful hints and offered new thoughts.

I especially express my gratitude to Prof. V.K. Paney, Prof. A. Sen Gupta, Prof. S.V. Pathak, Prof. R.P. Singh, Prof. Sanjay Baijal, Prof. A.K. Gupta, Sri H.S. Bajpai and all other Faculties in Department of Commerce, DDU Gorakhpur University, Gorakhpur, who not only encouraged me in my research work but also boosted to write research papers and given valuable suggestions to improve my writing.

I also express my sincere gratitude towards all of my teachers specially Prof. T.P.N. Srivastava and Prof. I.A. Ansari, both the Ex-Deans, Faculty of Commerce and Ex-Heads, Department of Commerce and Business Administration, DDU Gorakhpur University, Gorakhpur, Dr. Chandrashekhar Department of Law, DDU Gorakhpur University, Gorakhpur and other senior teachers who obliged me through their precious comments and suggestions.

I owe an intellectual debt to those academicians, researchers, entrepreneurs, professionals and officials who are associated with banking system in any way or contributed significantly to the field of Banks administration. Especially to all of the persons whom I met and transacted the views face to face, and whose precious views, submissions, work, information and responses have been used and quoted off and on in the study. I also express my gratefulness to various authors whose writing has helped me immensely in completing my work.

I express my sincere thanks to all of my friends, especially Mr Rajesh Kushwaha, Mr Santosh Kumar, Mr Sovind Kumar, Mr Brijwash Kushwaha, Mr. Rakesh Verma, Research Scholars in Department of Commerce DDU Gorakhpur University, Gorakhpur, and well-wishers who helped me either actively or virtuously in executing my work.

I am specially indebted to my father Mr Ram Narain Prasad, my Mother Smt Rambha Devi and my wife Smt Vandana Kannaujia, who continuously pursued the progress of the work, extended valuable guidance and emotional support as and when needed. I express my gratefulness to my maternal uncle Mr. Sunil Kumar. Finally, I again express my affectionate gratitude to my mother and my sister, who dispensed a lot of time and supported me in accomplishing the study.

Dated : 17. 07.2015

Gorakhpur.

(Pramod Kumar)