Acknowledgement

Glory to God in the Highest for all the showers of blessing upon me. I acknowledge and glorify the Almighty, who had been the inspiring star leading me all through out this study. I have experienced his magnificent blessings over me in many ways and through many people around.

The first place of record of profound sense of gratitude is to my guide Rev Fr. Dr. Varghese K. Varghese, the Director of Doctoral Research Centre Rajagiri, College of Social Sciences, Kalamassery and the Director of Bharath Matha College, Thrivikrama, Cochin, for his patient support, insightful guidance, and constant encouragement that had laid the foundations of strength all through out my work.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to Rev Fr. Jose Alex C.M.I, the Director of Rajagiri College of Social sciences and the present Provincial Superior, for his blessings and supportive attitudes and inspirations from the very beginning of this study and for providing the resources of Rajagiri.

My record of gratitude is placed before Dr.Joseph.1. Injody, the Principal of Rajagiri, for your concern and support all through out of the study. In a very special way I keep my gratitude to Dr. Mary Venus,C.J., the Vice-Principal of Rajagiri, for your whole hearted approach and timely guidance and also for making the resources of Rajagiri available for my study .I am thankful to Dr.Celine Sunny, the co-ordinator of social research centre, Rajagiri, who had enlightened me with Research Methodology Courses.

I owe to remember the initial inspirations and guidance I have abundantly benefited from Dr. Parthasarathy, Dr. T.S.N. Pillai and Dr. Lal Das and especially with an unending thankful heart towards Dr. Kannan who had enriched and enabled me with his research expertise in methodology and practical knowledge on SPSS package.

With an immense sense of gratitude, I do keep a special record of thanks to Dr.Mahajen.P.Manji of M.G.University for his ardent, critical suggestions at the very beginning of this research work and also for his supporting attitude that created a sense strength in me. I am thankful to all the office staff of M.G.University in all sections of research departments.

My gratitude is great indeed towards all the teaching staff at Rajagiri. I am thankful to all my friends and colleagues of research family at Doctoral research centre and to all the office bears at college office, computer lab, and at the Library.

I do keep a record of thankful memorials towards all my teachers at Roskint Nilaya, School of Social Work, Mangalore, for their inspirations and continuous support in the field of professional social work, I recall the encouragement and appreciations I have received from Dr. Philomena D’
Souza, my former principal, Dr. Remeela Shekhar, Late Miss Hilda Rayappan and to Dr. Sr. Jacinta, the present principal.

I am greatly indebted to all the experts of my psychoeducational team, Dr. Joan Chunkapura, Director TRADA, Kottayam, Dr Tony Vazhathanapilly Thodupuzha, Dr. Sebastian Nedumkandam, Professor M.J.Mathew and Professor K.M.Marykutty from M.E.S. College Nedumkandam, Mr. P.V. Philip, Management Consultant and HRD Trainer Ernakulam, Mr. Regikumar C.S. from Adimaly, Jaycees Trainer, Mrs. Sonia Jose M.S.W, and Miss Anju Jose M.S.W, from Muvattupuzha, and also to Bincy John at a different phases of this research work, I can not forget Miss Deepthy Raj, who came as an angel at my greatest need for help.

My record of thanks to Sr. Prasanna, Sr. Justy for their timely help. I feel great for Sr. Nishkalanka, S.N.D. for her language proficiency and valuable help when I was in great trouble and I am sure that you were sent by God only.

My hearty thanks to the Principals and Headmasters of the three schools selected, and for all the teachers, parents and local authorities for their cooperation and willingness. I am thankful to all my respondents from High School and Higher Secondary section for their whole hearted participation that enabled the psychoeducational process a success.

It's my privilege and duty to acknowledge my unending gratitude to my present provincial superior, Mother Devotia and to all other previous provincials, Mother Benno, Mother Sienna, Mother Silvia, and Late Mother Robert and Mother Edwina, for their continuous care, love and support that reached me to this stage. In a very special way I owe a great deal to mother Sienna, who had persuaded me to take up research study. Also let me acknowledge my sincere gratitude towards my mentors, Rev Mother Victima and Rev Sr. Josemary for their un ending guidance and prayers. Thanks to all my local superiors during this study period.

It's a chance for me to jot down my sense of indebtedness to my beloved sisters in the community of Chavara Bhavan and Jeevodaya Counselling Institute, Vazhappilly Muvattupuzha, who were always been the source of strength and warmth, whose prayer and words of comfort has enabled me to ride over all the tough times.

It is to my parents and their wishes that I owe great at this venture! My unending memories of thanks to them. My thanksgiving heart to all my people at home who were always a source of strength, and especially for my nephew Chessil Sojan for his timely help.

Finally my gratefulness is to Mr. Gopan and Maya, SIMS Computers near Mg. University Kottayam for their efficient and dedicated service for making my research work a 'Thesis Report'.
