ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The completion of this dissertation would have been impossible if not for the blessings of many people who have helped me along this long journey. I am indebted to a large number of people, but the constraint of space forces me to mention only a few among these many.

I raise my heart to God almighty who gave me nice persons to help in times of need and excellent ambience to do this work.

I am extremely grateful to my supervising teacher Dr. Gabriel Simon Thattil, Professor, Department of Commerce, University of Kerala, who inspired me to pursue this research topic. From the beginning to the end, he always listened to my ideas, helped me clarify my thinking, and the most of all, always guided me in the right direction. He has been my guiding light, and without his wisdom, support, and encouragement, the dissertation would have never seen the daylight.

I am truly grateful to Prof. Joy Joseph, Principal, Nirmala College, Muvattupuzha for the assistance extended to me throughout the period of my research. He was gracious enough to grant me permission to pursue the Faculty Improvement Programme of the UGC at the Research Department of the College. My sincere thanks are due to Dr. Girish Kumar, and the administrative staff of the College for supporting me in this venture.

It was Dr. S. Kevin, Director, TKM Institute of Management Studies, Kollam who assisted me in giving a systematic approach to the study. His valuable suggestions and constant motivation helped me a lot in finishing this work in time.

I am so happy to mention the name of my statistics teacher Prof. K. Kalyanaraman, who taught me analysis with SPSS, assisted me in the analysis and interpretation of the data. He sat with me, listen to my ideas and suggested appropriate tools. I am very much thankful to him for his patience to listen to me and completing the analysis within a very short period of time.

I have built up my work on the scholarly assistance of a number of persons. I mention but a few whose names loom largely in my mind. Prof. Sankaranarayanan (formerly Professor and HOD of Economics, CUSAT), Dr. Zacharias Thomas (Formerly Professor and HOD of Commerce, St. Aloysious College, Edathua). My heartfelt thanks to both of them.

My parent institution, Kuriakose Gregorious College, Pampady and its management supported me a lot during the course of my research work. Dr. M.E. Kuriakose, the Principal of the College deserves special thanks for the constant motivation and support extended by him during the period of FIP. Dr. Rajan Geroge Panicker, HOD of Commerce of the College and Dr. P.N. Harikumar, Research Co-ordinator of the department also supported me a lot. My heartfelt thanks to them also. I gratefully acknowledge the support by the faculty members of Commerce, and the K.G. College Community as a whole.

I express my heartfelt thanks to Prof. Mothathu, (formerly Professor and HOD of Department of English, University College, Thiruvananthapuram) for the effort he has taken to straightened out my English for this report.

Mr. Anish Joseph, Jamuna, Joe and Vakkachan supported me in DTP works. Thanks to all of them for their valuable assistance.

The support of my family during the course of the research work is specially commendable. My husband, Mr. Antony Joseph. K., the constant source of inspiration, in all my academic activities, supported me with love and care. My children, Neem Maria and Nohan Joe co-operated with me during the last two years of intense research work. My heartfelt thanks to all my family members.

Pampady

11.07.2011

Mini Joseph