The objectives of the study were:

1. To assess child health and child health care service utilization

2. To status of maternal health and maternal health care service utilization

3. To study the issues and challenges associated with maternal and child health and suggest corrective measures