ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to acknowledge the contribution of many people who have been of great help without them the completion of this thesis would not have been possible. First and foremost I would like to place on record the immense guidance and assistance shower to me by Prof (Dr.) Gangotri Chakraborty, Professor, Department of Law, University of North Bengal. I shall remain highly indebted to her for unconditional support and proper supervision provide to me for completion of this thesis.

I would like to express my thanks Prof. (Dr.) Rathin Bandopadhyay, Professor and Head, Department of Law, University of North Bengal and Dr. Sujit Biswas, Assistant Professor, Department of Law, University of North Bengal for constant encouragement and support.

My thanks also go to Ms. Denkila Bhutia, Assistant Professor, Department of Law, Sikkim University for her immense support throughout the completion of work of the study.

I would also express my sincerest gratitude to the faculty member of Department of Law, University of North Bengal for their suggestion and inputs. My sincerest thanks go to non teaching staff of Department of Law, University of North Bengal who have been of great help.

My visit made to West Bengal National University of Juridical Science, Kolkata; University of Calcutta, Kolkata; Central Library, Sikkim University, Gangtok; High Court of Sikkim, Gangtok helped me in finding materials relevant to my research study. My sincerest thanks go to all the librarians and staff of these respective institutions.

I would like to express my sincerest gratitude to my beloved parents Shri, Jagat Bahadur Gurung and Shila Gurung and my entire family member for their never ending love and support.

Last but not the least I would also like to thank my husband Mr. Bishal Gurung for his enduring support for completion of this work.

Pramita Gurung