ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and above all, I praise God, the almighty for providing me this opportunity and granting me the capability to proceed successfully. This thesis appears in its current form due to the assistance and guidance of several people. I would therefore like to offer my sincere thanks to all of them.

It is with real pleasure, I feel privileged to express my deep sense of gratitude to my Research Supervisor Dr. J.S. Bidlan, Professor, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for the patient guidance, encouragement and above all moral support throughout the course of this research work.

My most sincere and special thanks would go to Dr. C.R. Darolia, Professor, Department of Psychology, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for his support and encouragement during this research work. At many stages in the course of this research work I benefited from his advice, particularly so when exploring new ideas.

I would like to place on record my gratitude and thanks to Dr. Hardeep Lal Joshi, Assistant Professor, Department of Psychology, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for their help at various stages of the research activity. I am also thankful to chairman Department of Psychology, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra Professor Dr. Rohtash Singh for their help during this research work. Thanks also to all the members of Department of Psychology, Dr. Ranjana Singh, Assistant Professor, and Non teaching staff for providing their help and support at the department during entire tenure.

I am also thankful to the entire subjects who participated wholeheartedly in the data collection. I am also thankful to Head of various departments for giving me permission for data collection.
I would be failing in my duty if I do not express my gratitude to my sister, jijaji, brother, bhabhi and my little champs Lakshita, Bhuvika and Dhruv for their love, affection and blessing.

I would like to thanks Dr Anupma, Nisha Garg, Anjana Arora, Manish Arora and Monika Sharma for their help and constant encouragement.

Last but not least, this acknowledgement would be incomplete if I forget the two persons who gave me this precious life. It would have been impossible for me to move ahead in my life without the blessings of my respected Maa and Papa who have been the constant source of inspiration for me to continue to strive for knowledge enhancement and growth.
