ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Writing this thesis has been fascinating and extremely rewarding. I would like to thank a number of people who have contributed to the final result in many different ways:

To commence with, I pay my obeisance to GOD, the almighty to have bestowed upon me good health, courage, inspiration, zeal and the light. After GOD, I express my sincere and deepest gratitude to my supervisor, Dr. Sant Lal, Assistant Professor, Institute of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra who ploughed through several preliminary versions of my text, making critical suggestions and posing challenging questions. His expertise, invaluable guidance, constant encouragement, affectionate attitude, understanding, patience and healthy criticism added considerably to my experience. Without his continual inspiration, it would have not been possible to complete this study.

I am thankful to Prof. Dr. Rajpal Sharma, Dean, Faculty of Law & Director, Institute of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra and Prof. Dr. Dalip Kumar, Chairman, Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for their cognate attitude, skilful guidance and continued encouragement during the course of this study, despite their extremely busy schedule. They were kind enough to spare their valuable time, whenever I need their help.

I owe my special thanks to Dr. Preeti Bhardwaj, Assistant Professor, Department of Law, and Mrs. Kavita, Assistant Professor, Institute of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for their valuable cooperation and guidance in my research work.

I shall fail in my duty if I do not express my sincere thanks to the teachers of the Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, for their valuable suggestions, which helped me immensely to accomplish this research work. I am thankful to all my friends for their valuable cooperation and suggestion for the research work.
It gives me an immense debt of gratitude to express my sincere thanks to Sh. Rajbir Singh, District Attorney, Kurukshetra, for his support and valuable suggestions in the completion of this study.

Finally, my parents and my siblings deserve special mention here. My deep and lasting gratitude to my father Sh. Jaswant Singh for his unconditional love, faith, and support. He has been a constant source of inspiration and this work is especially dedicated to him.

I would also like to say a heartfelt thanks to my mother Smt. Usha for always believing in me and encouraging me to follow my dreams.

I owe a lot to my brothers, Neeraj and Amit, who encouraged and helped me at every stage of my personal and academic life, and longed to see this achievement come true. My brothers supported me in every possible way to see the completion of this work. Thanks is small word for everything my dear brothers, you are the best gift of almighty for me. I also thank to my sister-in-law Mrs. Sonam for her good wishes and moral support which always encouraged me to complete my research work. I owe special love to my nephew Aariv Singh Banwala.

I would also like to mention here a special thanks and gratitude to my fellow-mate and my best friend Ms Urmila, Assistant Professor at (Mandi, Himachal Pradesh), who supported me a lot in completion of my research work.

Last but not the least, I would like thanks all ministerial staff of department of law, and staff of library, Department of Law, Institute of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra, for their assistance rendered to locate the material to accomplish this research work. I also express my gratitude to all biographers whose books and readings have been consulted by me for my research work.

(Rashmi Devi)