Acknowledgement...

I have a great pleasure while keeping this thesis work in front of reputed personalities in the research. I take this opportunity as a deep sense of gratitude to those people & institutions that helped me during this research work.

While going through all stages of this massive work, from the hardships of collection of data to the final writing, I had a humble feeling that I am just a tool at the hands of the almighty God without whose mercy nothing was possible for me. I am grateful to Lord Shiva & Rama.

I am greatly indebted to the fountain of inspiration, my beloved guide Dr. R.S. Singh, Professor in Department Commerce & Business Administration, University of Allahabad, Allahabad for his benevolent and dexterous guidance and enduring encouragement for my research. As he had been the lodestar to me I acknowledge my deep sense of gratitude to him for his strenuous efforts in harnessing and supervising my doctoral research besides being my constant moral support. I would also express my gratitude to Gurumata Smt. Manjula Singh.

I am highly indebted to the great academician and visionary Prof. R.L. Hangaloo, the Hon'ble Vice Chancellor of the University of Allahabad for his suggestions, encouragement, good wishes and blessings showered upon me. He has been the guiding spirit of my life. It is his efforts that have enabled me to reach the position I am in today.

The work of my doctoral research had not been possible without the moral, ethical and spiritual underpinning of Acharya Shantanu Ji Maharaj, which provides a solid foundation laid below ground level to support or strengthen the intent. I am also grateful to him.

Along with my mentor, I would also thankful to my guru(s) Prof. S.A. Ansari, Prof. Anil Srivastava, Prof. Ashim Mukharjee, Prof. Pradeep Jain, Prof. Anjani Kumar Malviya, Dr. R.K. Singh, and Dr. Keshav Shyam for their valuable suggestions and guidance.
