ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

As the ink is drying on the pages of this thesis, the Supreme Court is awaiting suggestions on improvement of the Collegium system of appointments after striking down both the constitution (99th Amendment) Act 2014 and the National Judicial Appointments Commission Act (40 of 2014) as unconstitutional.

First of all, I would like to thank to the omniscient God who have graciously given me the power and inner motivation to complete this tough task.

Many persons have extended their help and cooperation in the process of preparation of this thesis. Firstly, I most humbly wish to express my deepest and profound gratitude to my supervisor Prof. Rudra Prakash Rai for rendering valuable guidance throughout the process of writing this thesis till its completion.

I am also grateful to Professor D.K. Sharma, Head and Dean, faculty of Law BHU for giving academic guidance and encouragement from time to time. I am also grateful to my teachers of legal education at Banaras Hindu University in general and to Professor D.P. Verma, Prof. M.P. Singh, Prof. B.C. Nirmal, Prof. Sukhpal Singh, Prof. B.N. Pandey, Prof. Ali Mehdi, Prof. V.S. Mishra, Prof. Shailendra Gupta in particular, who have been constant source of inspiration to me.

I am also deeply indebted to my teachers Sri Dr. Premchandra Viswakarma and Dr. Ram Avatar Singh (former Principal of Tilakdhari Law College, Jaunpur) for their encouragement.
I would like to thank all the faculty members of the Department of Law BHU who were ever co-operative and helped me when help was needed. Further, I am very grateful to the staff of library, Department of Law, BHU and central library, BHU for assistance and co-operation during the period of research.

No thesis can be completed or even attempted without tremendous help and support of the family in a countless number of ways. I wish to thank my wife Subhasini Seth, and my lovely son Pranjal for all the help, support and encouragement. My special thanks also go to my parents Sri Chandra Mohan Seth and Smt. Malti Seth who despite his age, help me all the time. I will be failing in my duty, if I do not express my thanks to my elder brothers Sri Pawan Seth, Sri Anil Seth and Bhabhi Smt. Poonam Singh and Kiran Seth and nephew Aviral, Akhil and niece Shruti, Vasu.

I wish to record my indebtedness to all the authors and their works which have been acknowledged in this thesis and also those which might have escaped acknowledgements. I wish to thank those persons whom I consulted for this work and whose names might have escaped.

Last but not the least, I wish to express my special thanks to my friends Mr. Alok Ram Tripathi, Mr. Manish Rai, Murari Arya, Anurag, Chandan, Amit, Vaibhav, Vijaybhan etc. for their assistance to complete this thesis.
