CONTENTS

Chapter-I
Introduction
- The Acronym Auto/biography
- Writing Auto/Biographies :Reminiscences and Reflections
- Feminist Consciousness and Literary Studies
- Origin of ‘New Biography’
- New Directions : Auto/biographical Spaces
- Theoretical Framework and Synopsis
- Works cited

Page 1-43

Chapter-II
Theories of Auto/Biography
- The Evolution of Male Auto/biographical Theory
- The Female Autobiographical Tradition
- The Biographer’s Art: Defining Women’s Biography
- Theory of Women’s Biography
- Bring the Corpse to life : The Discourse of the ‘New Biography’
- Women, Feminism and Auto/biography: Is there a Feminist Auto/biography?
- Biography as Microscope or Kaleidoscope? Case Studies
- Works cited

Page 44-156

Chapter-III
Personal is Political : A Theoretical Perspective
- Public / Private Domain : Social / Sexual Contract
- The Politics of Personal Life and Patriarchy
- Paternalistic Dominance : A System of Gender Domination
- Gender, Feminism & Politics in India : An Overview
- Works Cited

Page 157-203
Chapter-IV \textit{Personal is Political} : Nehru Women’s Autobiographies

“Telling it Natural”: Krishna Hutheesing’s \textit{With No Regrets} 209

“Telling it Straight”: Vijayalakshmi Pandit’s \textit{The Scope of Happiness} 225

“Telling it Slant”: Nayantara’s \textit{Prison & Chocolate Cake / From Fear Set free} 250

Works Cited 274

Chapter-V \textit{Personal is Political} : Indira Gandhi’s Biographies 276-334

Indira Gandhi’s Biographies : Microscope / Kaleidoscope 279

Multiple Images of Indira Gandhi : Wo(men) Biographers 285

Multiple Masculinities : Impact on Indira Gandhi 298

Political Power Entrusted to a ‘Woman’ : Indira Gandhi 315

Works Cited 334

Conclusion 335-349

Works Cited 350

Bibliography 351