ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This work is the result of my research studies at the Union Christian College Research Centre of the Mahatma Gandhi University during 1988 to 1991. I have put in about three and half year of Continuous effort in completing this study, including the writing of the thesis. I am deeply indebted to my research Guide Dr. C.J. Varghese, Lecturer in History, Union Christian College, Alwaye for his valuable guidance and constant encouragement throughout the period of research study. The Mahatma Gandhi University was kind enough to offer me a Junior Research Fellowship for a period of about three and half years commencing from 1988 for conducting the present study. This study would never have been undertaken by me, had it not been for the guidance of Dr. C.J. Varghese and the financial assistance I have received from the Mahatma Gandhi University.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to my research centre Union Christian College especially to Prof. C.J. Thomas, Principal of this College and to Dr. Joyce Mathew, the former principal of this college, for all the kindness and consideration shown to me during the course of this study.
