Acknowledgement

On this moment of submission of my thesis, I would like to thank all those good human beings, whom I have come across in this path of my journey, whose lives have inspired me and from whom I've learnt to live the life.

I am grateful to Prof. V. S. Chauhan, Director, ICGEB, for letting me in, in the ICGEB Ph.D., programme, even going out of his ways. I thank him sincerely, for his consideration, support & confidence towards me. Sir, I am indebted to you for whatever you have done for me.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. Sunil K. Mukherjee for his valuable advice, excellent guidance and encouragement. His insight into the subject has always made me realize and understand the subject in a broader perspective. I extend my special thanks to him for accepting me as his student, though I was half the way through with my fellowship and encouraging me to explore possible financial aids. I am extremely grateful for his confidence in me & the freedom he gave for me to work. I hope sir, I didn't let you down!!

I express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Nirupam Roy Choudhury for his help and support. His simplicity, immense patience, perfection, encouragement, discussions and positive attitude have always kept me motivated throughout the course of the study as well as life. His technical advices and suggestions were of great help in solving the problems.

I sincerely thank Prof. S. K. Sopory, Group Leader and PMB for providing the valuable suggestions regarding the administrative procedures and all the necessary facilities. His simple personality, talent of speaking and scientific attitude had always inspired me.

I would like to thank Dr. Subhasis Biswas, University of Medicine & Dentistry of New Jersey, USA, for providing the place & opportunity to work in his lab.
The financial help provided by CSIR & DBT, Govt. of India, for pursuing my thesis is duly acknowledged. I thank UMDNJ, USA, for supporting me financially during my stay over there.

I am thankful to Drs. M. K. Reddy, Raj Bhatnagar, Narendra Tuteja, Suresh Nair and V. S. Reddy for their valuable suggestions and support. I also acknowledge the help provided by Drs. Snehlata, Neeti and Rajagopal.

I would like to thank Dr. Ashish Nandi of JNU and his students, Swadhin, Vijayata and Mrunmay for their invaluable help in completing my Arabidopsis work. I extend my thanks to Mr. Ratnakaran, Vikash and Dr. Sidharth for their timely help towards the plant work.

I would like to thank all my batchmates, for their help and for all those light and cheerful moments that I shared with them. Pradipto deserves a special mention for his initial guidance in choosing the lab.

I thank my seniors and friends B. N. Singh, Punjab, Lalitha, Murthy Vineettha, Wricha, Tanushri, Dasaradhi, Kannan, Sidharth, Basavaraj, Dharmendra, Ajay, Anuja, Rabi, Dhiraj, Meenu for their constant support, lively working environment and making the process of learning easier. I also thank Preeti, Chandan, Dinesh, Ramesh and Parul for their help. I am grateful to the timely help provided by Mr. Naresh.

Many thanks to all members of the "geminivirus group" for making the weekly saturday meetings so lively, informative and interactive. I was lucky to be a part of such a group filled with learning experiences.

I would like to remember all the members of PMB, for their presence, help & support, without which this thesis is impossible. Due to shortage of space, mentioning everybody’s name is not feasible. Nevertheless, each and every one of them stays close to my heart. A special thanks to all of you, guys.

All the members of the second floor and friends in ICGEB are also acknowledged for providing a pleasant and friendly environment to work. I thank Murali, Rawat, Surya, Gita, Tina and Pratibha for their help and assistance.
It is impossible to express my gratitude towards Sangeeta in words for all her support & valuable time, trying her level best to lighten my mood and refresh me.

I wish to express my thanks personally to Dr. Sam for his concern not only towards my academics but also to my personal life. I wish to remember the help and support provided by Suchi, during my tough times and her family during my initial days in Delhi.

I don't think, Thamil will accept my thanks for that entire she has been to me & with me, in my difficult times, personally and academically, as she deserves much more than this. Same goes for Grace. I am afraid that I could even thank her. Her cheerful and easy-going attitude made my thesis-writing an enjoyable event.

I would like to give a special thanks to Mrs. Madhavi Choudhury, for her care and kindness towards me, seasoned with Bengali dishes and flavoured with cups of tea at her home. I felt at home at those times, ma'am. Special mention goes to Sourav for his igniting arguments.

Special and heartfelt thanks to Dhwani, Pramod, Falguni, Somya for making my Ph. D. days memorable with endless rounds of music and laughter.

I cannot forget the contribution of my sister and friend, Neelam who has been a constant reservoir of cheers at all those times when I needed it the most.

It's hard to describe the importance of Rajeev in my life. He has been a source of constant support and inspiration and his confidence on me always boosted my morale in all possible ways.

Finally, but not the least, I would like to mention the support of my family members all these years. My parents, Senthil, Sumathi, Grand parents, Uncle, Subha and Parthi are the ones who have made this thesis a reality by having faith in me and for instilling in me the courage to strive and achieve higher goals in life.
