Contents

Introduction ................................................. 1

Chapter 1 Immergence of being ............................. 17
First meaning of the being- Parmenides ............ 22
Being and non-being or reality and appearance... 22
Being’s properties ........................................ 25
Conclusion .................................................. 27

Chapter 2 Plato ................................................. 29
Roots of the Eleatic Doctrines ......................... 29
What is real being ........................................ 32
Problem of Relation of the real being (Universal) to sensible world (particulars) ......................... 33
The being of Idea ......................................... 35 Problem of Relation of the Real beings to each other ................................................. 38
Object of true knowledge, the being ............... 42
Ontological results ....................................... 46
Conclusion .................................................. 51
Chapter 3  Aristotle- Nature of Aristotle’s writings……….56
What is real knowledge and it’s object in Aristotle and Plato........................................60
Why Aristotle dose not accept real being of Plato...........................................................74
Does Aristotle understand Plato from his Point of view?.............................................77
How Aristotle overcomes with problems of real being in Plato......................................84
How change is possible in real being..........90
Conclusion...............................................94
Summary................................................98

Chapter 4  Immanuel Kant...............................105
Nature of Kant’s writings......................... 106
What made Kant not to accept previous metaphysics?............................................. 109
Which metaphysics is possible?...............112
Possible metaphysics through apriori
synthetic judgments..................................122
How cognition operates
Sense knowledge................................. 129
Chapter 5

Mulla - Sadra

His life ..........................162
His works ..........................167
Sadra’s Metaphysics .................. 169
What is the being and its principality
Sadra and Parmenides .............. 172
Sadra and Plato ........................ 174
Sadra and Aristotle ................. 176
Sadra and Kant ..................... 182
Summary ..........................189
Conclusion ..........................193
References ..........................204