ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Gratitude is the memory of the heart. -- Jean-Baptiste Massieu

First and foremost, I would want to recall the strong inspiration and motivation my late mother G. Santha, a retired English teacher, gave me. She always wished that her son would earn an advanced degree in Journalism, one day.

Dr A.P.J. Abdul Kalam, former President of India, for inspiring me to take up a study on internal public of HAL.

I am not sure if words can ever capture the confidence and trust that my guide, Dr Pramila B. Kunnur, Head and Associate Professor, Department of Journalism, Maharaja’s College, Mysore had in me right from the beginning of this research.

I am thankful to Prof N. Usha Rani, former Chairperson and Prof B. P. Mahesh Chandra Guru, present Chairman of DOS in Communication and Journalism, Mysore University, for their candid thoughts and suggestions during various colloquiums, which helped me in making my study more focused.

Dr K.J. Joseph, Associate Professor, Department of Communication and Journalism, Mysore University, stood by me as rock solid throughout my research period. His timely advice boosted my morale. I thank him for the same.

Dr Sapna M.S., Lecturer, Department of Communication and Journalism, Mysore University, who propelled me to complete the mission. I thank her too.

The entire teaching and support staff of the Department of Communication and Journalism, which played varied roles in aiding me to complete the study.

I thank Dr Lancy D’Souza of Maharaja’s College and Dr N.S. Harinarayana from University of Mysore for their timely help to put the thesis together.

My thanks are due to Dr H.S. Ashok, Associate Professor, Department of Psychology, Bangalore University, for enriching this study with his statistical acumen, research guidance and willingness to thrash out my doubts.

I thank wholeheartedly Prof Aruna Hallikkeri, Associate Professor, Karnataka University, Dharwad, for her mother-like support from the beginning of this thesis.
I whole-heartedly acknowledge my thanks to:

My friend and noted senior journalist Dr Gautham Machiach M. of Zee Group for guiding me with his flawless thoughts on Journalism and Ph.D programme. Engineering graduates Kiran Kumar K. and Suresh Rao for their expertise in tabulating the survey results. Research scholars Tejaswini and Chandrappa from Mysore University for their last-minute assistance.

My journalist colleague Prathima Rao and communication consultant Reshma Balakrishna for their invaluable inputs. Dr Shabana M. for sharing her thoughts on research and engaging in fruitful talks on communication.

Abraham V. Kuruvilla, research assistant and strategic-analysis student with Madras University, for chipping in with valuable inputs. Friends in Hindustan Aeronautics Ltd (HAL) for their valuable support during the Communication Survey.

Sam Varghese, Gulf News, for always backing my dreams even while the going was tough. M.P. Krishna, Corporate Communication Assistant, HAL, for being my Man Friday right through the Communication Survey.

I express my indebtedness to my father K.N. Muralidharan Nair, a retired Headmaster; my wife Sindhu A., a Physics researcher; my son Govind Sai Krishnan A., a Class-VII student, for their endless support. My gratitude to relatives, teachers and friends who felt proud that I am pursuing my research in Journalism.

I fail in my duty if don’t sincerely thank the examiner who provided thought-provoking and valid comments, which made this study more meaningful at the revision stage.

My prayer to the Almighty for giving me the inner strength to put this study together.
