ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and the foremost, I would like to thank God for providing me this opportunity to carry out this study and for the different experiences, during the course of this study.

I am indebted to my guide, Prof. Ashutosh Biswal, Professor of Education, Department of Education, Faculty of Education & Psychology, The M.S. University of Baroda, Vadodara for his continuous encouragement and support during the study. He not only guided me by showing the right direction but also encouraged the spirit of discovery in the researcher. His patience and flexibility helped me in perceiving the research process not as an “obstacle” but an “opportunity” to learn. Besides him I am thankful to his wife Dr. Jayshree Das, Lecturer, Department of Education for her continuous support and encouragement.

I am also grateful to Dr. Veenaben Patel, Dean, Faculty of Education, Kadi Sarva Vishwavidhyalya for the constant encouragement, guidance and help to conduct the study. I wish to express profusely my sincere and deep gratitude to Dr. Sanjay Gupta, Dr. Bhavikbhai Shah and Dr. Harekrishna Patel of the department for their valuable inputs and the support of staff for their help.

I further extend my thanks to the experts from CASE- MSU, Saurashtra University, Gujarat University and North Gujarat University who spent their valuable time to provide useful suggestions for conducting the study.

I am also thankful to the Management of Om International School, Mota Chiloda, Gandhinagar where I am working, who had supported me in completing the research by being co-operative for doing my experiment and data collection for the study. Without their co-operation, this research study would have not been possible. I express my sincere thanks to my Principal Dr. Sudeep Goyal other staff members and administrative staff for motivating me for my work.

I am also heartily thankful to the Head and faculty members of R.H. Patel English Medium B.Ed College for their constant support and help.

I also would like to thank all those who helped me knowingly or unknowingly during the various stages of my research, especially those whose contribution may appear insignificant. However without their timely help, the study would not have been completed successfully.
Last but definitely not the least, I would like to appreciate the support extended to me by my family members, especially my bapu, mother, brother and sister-in-law, husband and father-in-law who helped me in every possible way to work to my optimum potential.

Date: 21.04.2014

(CHANDA S. NAIDU)
Researcher