This thesis is an outcome of the work I started in November, 2008. Now, when I am submitting this thesis, it seems as if a long cherished dream is fulfilled. I feel it is the greatest hour to express my profound sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my esteemed and distinguished supervisor Dr. Radhey Shyam, Professor, Department of Psychology, M.D. University, Rohtak for his guidance, inspiration, co-operation and suggestions at all stages of this thesis work. He cheerfully gave his valuable time whenever I needed and I find myself highly fortunate and gratefully privileged to have worked under his supervision. For me, he is the best teacher of the world. I also express my thanks to Mrs. Gayatri Devi, wife of Dr. Radhey Shyam who gave me moral support and also encouraged me at every step of my research work.

My heartfelt thanks are also due to Dr. Promila Batra, Professor & Head, Deptt. of Psychology, M.D. University, Rohtak for providing me facilities in the department. I owe my thanks to Dr. Rajbir Singh, Professor and formerly Head, Department of Psychology, for his affectionate words and sympathetic support and valuable suggestions whenever sought by me since inception to the completion of this work. I would like to thank all the teachers in the Department of Psychology, Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak for their constant encouragement during my stay in the department.

I would like to take this golden opportunity to express my deeply felt, gratitude to Dr. Geeta Gathwala, Head of Department Paediatrics, PGIMS, University of Health Sciences, Rohtak to allow me for research, along with her co-operation and unconditional tremendous support and thereby shaping my career to where it stands today.

I shall remain thankful to the Librarian and Dr. Satish Malik, Deputy Librarian other staff members for their help and I will always remember the Thesis and Rare Book Section as well as the Computer Lab. of Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak. I am also thankful to all the members of non-teaching staff, Department of Psychology, Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak.
I am also thankful to Psychiatrists of Private Nursing Homes and Paediatricians of PGIMS at Rohtak who co-operated with me for data collection and all of those participants (ADHD Patients and their parents) who gave accurate information about their life experiences.

I shall always remain obliged to my reverend mother Smt. Savitari Devi who has always been a constant source of my inspiration and who formed the backbone of my success by helping me in every possible manner.

I take this opportunity to extend special thanks to my wife Smt. Munni Devi for her ever-loving support, patience and encouragement towards my work and understanding during the years of my studies and work. My heart goes to my daughter Preeti and son Rakesh Redhu, who helped me tremendously in my research work and bore the pangs of separation stoically many times as I was busy in the completion of my thesis work.

I am sincerely and specially thankful to Ms. Anuradha who constantly helped me throughout my work being very co-operative and a great motivator at every step of my research work. I will ever remember the eager assistance made by Dr. Naseeb Singh and Mr. Jitender Singh Malik in the moulding of my research thesis. Last but not least I feel obliged to my friends who teased and tolerated me during the publication of my research work.
