Letter of Approval from Jyeshta Nagrik Association

To Whomsoever Concern

Ms. Vijayalakshmi Ravi has undertaken research work with the objective of understanding and analyzing the needs of the senior citizens of India and to evaluate technology options to improve the quality of their lives. She has proposed a system design for Senior Citizens Wellness Management- “Jyeshta Ayush” to provide them with affordable health care and other essential services to promote their overall wellness and welfare. This is an innovative technological initiative. From our experience we can say that this initiative will surely benefit the senior citizens in the future when it is finally implemented. We wish her all the best for the success of this project.

TO WHOMSOEVER CONCERN

This is to inform that Ms. Vijayalakshmi Ravi, resident of 904/1001 Kanchan Towers, Sector 25, Nerul, Navi Mumbai 400705 has undertaken an excellent project “CLOUD BASED MODEL FOR SENIOR CITIZENS WELLNESS MANAGEMENT” for her degree in Doctor of Philosophy in IT.

We at Silver Inning Foundation are honored to be part of this project for the betterment of our stakeholders, our Elders. Our Organization being Pioneer in ICT base tool for Dissemination, Advocacy and Networking in area of Ageing, encourages such futuristic IT base application for the cause of Senior Citizens.

The design of the system also included the needs of the other organizations and professionals who are serving the senior citizens, so that they can serve them better and reach out to a larger section of the community. This project was taken up with a socio-technical approach where the central focuses were the stakeholders which in this case are the senior citizens and the professionals who served them. The design proposed was approved by the stakeholders time and again so that the final product was usable by the end users. This technique resulted in the evolution of both requirements and solution by the collaboration with the end users.

We wish her all the best for her research and study and will be happy to explore possibilities to join hands with her.

Warm Regards,

Sailesh Mishra

To whomsoever it may concern

The research work undertaken by Ms Vijayalakshmi Ravi is with the objective to understand and analyze the needs of the senior citizens in India and to evaluate the technology options to serve them better. She has proposed a cloud based design for senior citizens wellness management called- “Jyeshta Ayush”. This system will provide access to different health care, essential and home health care services. It will help in creating awareness about prevention of NCDs and adopt a healthy lifestyle. The system will provide assistance to manage their health, wealth and personal portfolio. This will promote their overall wellness and welfare. This is an innovative technological initiative. As a health practitioner, I can say from my experience that this initiative will help to build the eco-system of health practitioners and other professionals to serve a larger section of the senior citizens community. I recommend that this project should be implemented and wish her success for the same.

To whom so ever it may concern

Ms. Vijayalakshmi Ravi has done her research work with a unique aim to serve the elderly people leaving alone. Her study involves to collate data relating to needs and necessities of these people. After analyzing these data she has come up with a cloud based solution which can help the senior citizens. In addition to this it is also going to digitalize the important medical reports and other relevant issues of the senior citizens so that in case of emergencies medical professional can have access to these and can help in faster diagnosis and treatment. These are some of the benefit of this software. We wish the project all the success.
