ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Writing this thesis would have been impossible without the constant support and encouragement of many around me. But I place on record the names of a few only who provided unfailing support throughout the course of this study.

First and foremost, I would like to place on record gratitude to my guide Dr. P. Suresh Kumar, Associate Professor, Government College, Attingal. He has given me complete freedom to scale the vast sea of knowledge.

I am thankful to my mentor, Dr. R. Raveendran Pillai, (Associate Professor in Economics, University College, Thiruvananthapuram) for meticulously going through my work. Thank you Sir, for guiding and supporting me in the hours of darkness; speaking words of wisdom.

I would like to express my gratitude to Dr. P. Cyriac Mathews (former Deputy Director of Collegiate Education) for his patience in going through the earlier versions of my work and for offering comments and suggestions.

Dr. A.V. George, (Registrar, Sree Chithra Thirunal Institute of Medical Science and Technology) whom I met in the course of my research has been a source of strength and support. I am thankful to him for providing me with relevant study materials.

A considerable volume of secondary data required for my thesis was collected from the office of the Kerala Building and Other Construction Workers Welfare Fund. I place on record my gratitude to the Secretary and other staff members of this office.

I am thankful to Dr. S. Raju (Professor, School of Social Sciences, M.G. University, Kottayam), Sri. M. Somasekharan Pillai (Associate Professor in Statistics, University College, Thiruvananthapuram) and Sri. Sujeesh (Department of Future Studies, University of Kerala) for their comments on the analytical content of this study.

My work would have been a failure without the questionnaire survey and its analysis. At this juncture, I place on record my immense gratitude to all the construction workers, contractors and other members connected with this industry for helping me complete my study.

I am thankful to the staff members of Kerala University Library and also Achutha Menon Centre for Health Science Studies, Thiruvananthapuram. Thanks are also due to my Management and colleagues at St. Michaels’ College, Cherthala for their encouragement.

Last but foremost in my mind, I would like to express my deep sense of love and gratitude to my husband, daughter and other family members for their unstinting support. I am profoundly indebted to my parents for guiding me in the right direction in my academic pursuits.

To pen down without thanking the “All Powerful” would be ridiculous. I bow my head before God Almighty for all his blessings.
