Acknowledgement

It is imperative that I first thank that unknown force, that has seen me through this long and arduous journey.

In this extensive journey I had received the support of many well-wishers and may be pardoned for not been able to pen down all the names here, but I will fail in my duty if I do not make a special mention of some of them...

I owe this work to my guide Dr. Bhaskaranand Kumar. It was my honour and privilege to have had this learning process under his mentorship. Over this period he had always been a pillar of support, guidance and determination. I am indebted for his invaluable support. His confidence in me and my work gave me the courage to embark on the research that was challenging, rewarding and close to my heart. Thank you for giving me the freedom and space, and for being there with me through all the ups and downs.

My heartfelt thanks to Dr. B. Rajashekhhar, Dean, SOAHS for his constant encouragement and concern and specially for mobilizing resources to obtain the all-important permission from Chief Commissioner of Disability, Govt. of India.

Thanking Manipal Foundation [Manipal Faculty Study Fellowship- 2003-2004 & 2005-2006] for extending the immensely important financial assistance to cover my extensive field work travel across six states, and Manipal University for the wonderful support.
A special word of gratitude to Dr. G. Kanaka and Dr. B. Unnikrishnan for their unconditional support, advice and help with writing and re-writing. Their timely intervention was extremely valuable at the stage of my program completion. I can’t thank you enough for all you have done, for going out of your way to support me intellectually, and for your generosity with your time and ideas.

My sincere thanks to Dr. N. S. Sreekumaran Nair, Dr. Binu V.S., Ms. Shavina and Mr. M. S. Kotian for providing all necessary statistical inputs and corrections, and played a critical role in the task completion.

My sincere thanks to all my colleagues at the Department of Occupational Therapy for their understanding and support, heartfelt appreciation to my senior colleagues Mr. Sashidhar and Dr. Sebestina and special thanks to Ms Sumedha for shouldering my clinical burden at the work place.

My deep sense of appreciation for the entire team who helped me with translation of the questionnaires in several languages. My gratitude to Ms. Jisha, Mr. Premraj, Ms. Lincy, and Ms. Himalini for assisting me with data collection at various locations.

Special thanks to Dr. Ashima Valiathan, Mr. Muthuraj, Mr. Premraj, Ms. Jeeshu for helping me out with much needed logistic support at different locations and making my fieldwork less daunting.

My sincere thanks to Dr. Manoj Kumar, Chief Commissioner of Disability, Govt. of India for making a formal appeal to various centers dealing with locomotor disabilities for allowing me to conduct the study.
My praise for the authorities of various centres for their kind permission for carrying out my study.

My acknowledgement to Dr. Nagendra Prakash & Dr. Ratna Prakash for all the critical, theoretical, sociological and political perspectives required during the study.

My thanks to late Mr. PSV Mallaya for his genuine concern and wishes for me to touch the finish line.

I also take this opportunity to thank all my family members, specially my parents, my wife Dola, my daughters Malavika & Anoushka for their unconditional support, patience and understanding, particularrly when I was not able to spend as much time with them as I would have liked. They all stood by me in tough and testing times and not letting me give up at the last minute!

Thanks to Mr. Suresh N. for all the needed formatting and printing help.

Last, but not the least, I wish to offer my gratitude to all my students, friends, and subjects who have directly or indirectly helped me. At times what seemed like an endless journey, has finally found its destination – a destination from where another new and meaningful journey begins!
