ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

No achievement can ever be a single handed endeavor; at least it is very true of this thesis that I am presenting to Gujarat University. The thesis has seen the light of the day only because there were quite a few committed distinguished individuals supporting me through the normal spells of the dark lostness which is the fate of every researcher.

Words fail me when I try to express my gratitude to my guide Dr. C.R. Vora, Reader, Department of Chemistry, School of Sciences, Gujarat University, who stood by me through every tide and ebb. But for him I wouldn't have been able to reach the shore.

Prof. Y.K. Agrawal, the Head of the Department of Chemistry, School of Sciences, Gujarat University and the polestar of my research voyages too, is beyond my reach to thank. I express my sense of gratitude to him.

I am also thankful to Ms. Nila Upadhyay, the Head of the Department of Microbiology, Gujarat College and to every supporting colleague in the Department of Microbiology, Gujarat College.

A word of appreciation for Ms. Minakshiben Oza, Principal, Gujarat College, who encouraged me time to time.
I am indeed thankful to Dr. S.R. Dave, Head, Department of Microbiology, Gujarat University for his morale boosting support and contributive suggestions.

No research can be possible without hearty support of various libraries. I appreciate the library services of I.I.S. Bangalore, C.S.R.I. Hyderabad, M.S. University Baroda, ATIRA, Ahmedabad and B.J. Medical College Ahmedabad for their great support.

Chemistry Department of Gujarat University, as a whole, has seen so many researchers getting through their research voyage. They know the value of a cheering word or a helping gesture. Each one there deserves my hearty thanks.

My parents and family have been an unflinching source of support to me always. However, those are the ones who do so without any expectations and all I want to say here is I value their support and love.

Finally a word for my dear daughter Nidhi and my husband Rajesh, who have sacrificed their share of my time most lovingly to see me complete my research. I am sure, they too feel that their sacrifice was worth. Thanks Nidhi. Thanks Rajesh.
